

God, In You Our Lives Are Founded

William Flanders

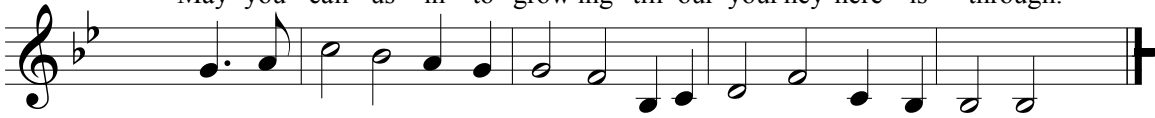

1. God, in you our lives are found-ed and in you our futures lie.
2. As a par-ent oft we love you; you we hon-or and o - bey.
3. You, the deep-est depth with - in us, you our full-est life to come.

All our hopes in you are ground-ed, and to you our long-ings fly. —
Then we cast ourselves a - bove you as we learn to make our way.
You whose will is to ex-tend us, you our goal and you, our home.

May we nev - er lose the vis - ion, or be-lieve it less than true,
May this free-dom that you give us, that we cling so fierce - ly to, —
May you call us in - to grow-ing till our your-ney here is through.

that we hold one common mis-sion: to be-come our-selves in you.
be a free-dom that will lead us to be-come our-selves in you.
And our end will be our go - ing to be-come our-selves in you.
