

Armbruster, Margaret A.

Margaret Ann Armbruster, 81, died after a month-long illness Tuesday, May 16, 2006, at Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon. Born July 15, 1924, Margaret was the only daughter of Edward and Maybel (Carpenter) Jahr in Sebewaing where she lived most her life. She devoted herself to her family and considered making a home for them her greatest calling. She also was an excellent cook and friends and family loved meals cooked and served by Margaret. Her church was important to Margaret. It's where she taught Vacation Bible School and Catechism, as well as volunteering in other capacities throughout her life. More recently, she enjoyed visiting with friends in the Thursday Morning Breakfast Club, remaining in touch with distant friends through e-mail and keeping fit through water exercise which she faithfully attended three times weekly. Margaret married the love of her life, Victor Armbruster, on March 2, 1946 and spent many happy years with him until his death in 1992. She is survived by three children, Michael (Cindy) Armbruster and their children, Aric and Jackie; Gay Lee (Doug) Henne and their daughters, Meredith and Louise; and Susan (Karl) Hass and their children, Alison, Adam, and Autumn. A service of remembrance and celebration will be held at 11 a.m. on Friday, May 19, 2006, at Trinity United Methodist Church, 513 Washington Street, with a dinner to share memories at Bay Shore Park's Family Center. Funeral arrangements are through the Dinkel-Juengel Funeral Home on Beck Street in Sebewaing.
