The wisest man who ever lived, apart from Jesus Christ, stated that there is "nothing new under the sun". In other words, events that have occurred in the past will repeat themselves in the future. In part, this is because mankind rarely learns important lessons from history.

That which has been is what will be (again), that which is done is what will be done (again), and there is nothing new under the sun. ¹⁰Is there anything of which it may be said, "See, this is new?" (In fact) it has already been in ancient times before us (Ecc.; 1:9-10; NKJV used throughout unless otherwise noted, Ed. notes in parentheses).

Today there are organized movements to cancel historical truths and, as a consequence, we are much more likely to repeat the mistakes of previous generations. Therefore, if this generation refuses to hear the historical truths recorded in God's word, it will be at their peril.

The wicked in his proud countenance does not seek God; God is in none of his thoughts (Ps. 10:4).

The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God." They are corrupt, and have done abominable iniquity; there is none who does good (as defined by God's law and commandments). ²God looks down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there are any who understand, who seek God. ³Every one of them has turned aside; they have together become corrupt... (Ps. 53:1-3a; cf. Rom. 1:18-25; Ed. note in parenthesis).

Because this generation is becoming so corrupt, God is allowing events to unfold that will result in serious consequences for mankind. This happened in the past, and it is occurring again. For those who have the eyes to see, there are principles contained within the following historic example that apply in today's world.

The context is a natural disaster (seven-year drought) that resulted in the removal of freedoms, previously enjoyed by an entire nation, just as we see occurring now as world leaders systematically remove basic rights and freedoms from their citizens during the current COVID-19 outbreak.

Now there was no bread in all the land; for the famine was very severe, so that the land of Egypt and all the land of Canaan languished because of the famine. ¹⁴And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, for the grain which they bought; and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house. ¹⁵So when the money failed in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came to Joseph and said, "Give us bread, for why should we die in your presence? For the money has failed" (Gen. 47:13-15).

Because this disaster drained the economy, money became worthless just as we see occurring today due to a number of factors, including big government programs that require more and more money that we do not have. Hence, the printing of trillions of dollars which makes everyone's income and savings progressively worthless. Eventually, entire nations will become totally dependent upon their central governments for survival as happened millennia ago in Egypt.

But, as the saying goes, "let no disaster go to waste." Therefore, those in leadership positions within government and the private sector will exploit COVID-19 in order to forward their agenda, as expressed by one of the Pharaohs of Davos, Klaus Schwab (founder and executive chairman of The World Economic Forum, which is an international organization for public-private cooperation).

"The pandemic represents a rare but narrow window of opportunity to reflect, re-imagine, and reset our world" (all quotes are from an article in the Alberta Press; January 24, 2021; entitled, "World Leaders Meet in Switzerland to Discuss 'Great Reset' Where People 'Will Own Nothing and Will Be Happy'"; Ed. notes in parentheses; emphasis added).

So how does this plan of "owning nothing and being happy" become a reality.

(It) "involves replacing shareholders of big companies with stakeholders, who critics say are left-wing bureaucrats and climate change zealots (per the current U.S. Administration). It also replaces Mom and Pop small businesses and private enterprises with big tech and big business (as witnessed by the arbitrary closures of many small businesses during the first two years of the COVID outbreak)."

The following quote is a commentary on another leader who subscribes to the agenda of the Pharaohs of Davos.

"On November 17, 2020, U.S. Fox News host Tucker Carlson mentioned (Canadian Prime Minister) Trudeau's comments to the United Nations and said, 'The elites want COVID-19 lock-downs to usher in a 'great reset' and that should terrify you.'"

But it's not only your money that the elites want complete control over, but they also want to control your sources of income. In the case of ancient Egypt, livestock was central to many people's income, and it was systematically removed.

Then Joseph said, "Give your livestock, and I will give you bread for your livestock, if the money is gone." ¹⁷So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph gave them bread in exchange for the horses, the flocks, the cattle of the herds, and for the donkeys. Thus he supplied them with bread in exchange for all their livestock that year (Gen. 47:16-17).

Will "the Pharaohs of Davos" be content with controlling your money and ability to earn a living, or do they want all your assets as well? Again, Almighty God will allow this to occur due to the increase in corruption and lawlessness globally.

When that year had ended, they came to him the next year and said to him, "We will not hide from my lord that our money is gone; my lord also has our herds of livestock. There is nothing left in the sight of my lord but our bodies and our lands. ¹⁹Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our land? Buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants of Pharaoh; give us seed, that we may live and not die, that the land may not be desolate." ²⁰Then Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for every man of the Egyptians sold his field, because the famine was severe upon them. So the land became Pharaoh's (Gen. 47:18-20; emphasis added).

As publicly stated, the intended goal of the Pharaoh's of Davos, is to remove the ability of the masses to own anything. This gives governments complete control of their citizens who have become dependent upon socialist programs.

At a virtual meeting in June 2020 hosted by the World Economic Forum, some of the world's most powerful business leaders, government officials and activists announced a proposal to "reset" the global economy. Instead of capitalism, the group said the world must adopt socialist policies, such as wealth taxes, additional regulations and massive "green new deal-like government programs" (as being promoted by the current U.S. Administration). "Every country, from the U.S. to China, must participate, and every industry, from oil and gas to tech, must be transformed," said Schwab, in an article published on WEF's website (<https://albertapressleader.ca/?p=31065>).

Because Pharaoh acquired all the assets of the Egyptian people, they were forced to move off their property, but the elites in Pharaoh's government were not affected. This will be the case again if the citizens of this world continue to be "dumbed-down" and exploited by their own leaders.

And as for the people, he moved them into cities, from one end of the borders of Egypt to the other end. ²²Only the land of the priests he did not buy; for the priests had rations allotted to them by Pharaoh, and they ate their rations which Pharaoh gave them; therefore they did not sell their lands (Gen. 47:21-22).

Next, taxes which hitherto had not been paid to Pharaoh, were now going to be due at every harvest. So by applying this example of the seven-year famine in Egypt, can we expect more and more levels of taxation and regulation over the remaining five years of the seven-year cycle triggered by the COVID-19 outbreak in late 2020?

*Then Joseph said to the people, "Indeed I have bought you and your land this day for Pharaoh. Look, here is seed for you, and you shall sow the land. ²⁴And it shall come to pass in the harvest that you shall give one-fifth to Pharaoh. Four-fifths shall be your own, as seed for the field and for your food, for those of your households and as food for your little ones" (Gen. 47:23-24; emphasis added).

So they had nothing compared to what they owned before the famine and they were grateful, as one of the Pharaohs of Davos predicted would happen in our lifetime.

So they said, "You have saved our lives; let us find favor in the sight of my lord, and we will be Pharaoh's servants" (Gen. 47:25).

Interestingly, this new taxation and regulation did not apply to the elites within Pharaoh's government; just as the ramifications of new taxation and regulation will have little impact on the elites in our world today.

And Joseph made it a law over the land of Egypt to this day, that Pharaoh should have one-fifth, except for the land of the priests only, which did not become Pharaoh's (Gen. 47:26; emphasis added).

These changes to the structure of Egypt had a disastrous effect on later generations. For instance, during the reign of the Pharaoh who presided over Israel's exodus from Egypt, Egyptian citizens were so powerless they had to "shut up" and allow this Pharaoh to do whatever he wished, even if it meant the destruction of the nation, which actually occurred. This scenario may well play out again when the power of average citizens is removed and the elites can do whatever they want without objection from their countrymen. This may be the point in time when this present evil age comes to an end (cf. Gal. 1:4).

If the Pharaohs of Davos are able to implement their plans, citizens will own nothing and must not resist their elitist overlords. The result will be authoritarian and totalitarian governments globally (see study: Nicolaitans Are Leading Us).
