

Dear Camilla,

George Daily here. From where I sit outside the auditorium, I've seen firsthand what the George Daily Auditorium means to the Oskaloosa community. Last season brought the sensational Broadway production Cabaret, the intense drama Of Mice and Men, and the thrill of live musical performances right to our backyard. So far this summer, 61 area children have expanded their knowledge of performing arts thanks to the magic of the Daily Youth Theater camp.

Your contribution of $XXXX last year made this exceptional programming possible. The 2010 – 2011 season promises the same caliber of professional performances. From former NFL cornerback Bo Eason to the toe-tapping musical Forever Plaid, this season is sure to provide entertainment for all audiences.

But I can't do it without your help. Your support makes the magic possible. Help me keep the auditorium filled with musicians, dancers, and actors who enrich our community as they touch us all with their talent.

What your membership supports:

- Educational opportunities for area youth to learn and grow with performing arts
- Hands-on experience for local student technical crews to work with professional crews, which leads to college scholarships and job opportunities
- High-quality arts programs that contribute to a vibrant community
- Reasonable ticket prices to the best music, dance, and theatrical productions in the region

Help carry on the tradition of artistic excellence at the George Daily Auditorium. As a Friend of the Auditorium, you are among the first to learn about the new season. And with your continued contribution, you'll have first pick of your season ticket seats.

Simply send your donation to The George Daily Auditorium at 1800 N 3rd Street, Oskaloosa, IA, 52577. For each generous gift of $500 or more, you'll receive a single season ticket. To inquire about volunteer opportunities, call 641-672-0799 or e-mail gdcatickets@georgedailyauditorium.com.

Thank you for being a Friend of the Auditorium. When the curtain rises, I hope to see you there. If you've got the time, stop by for a game of checkers.

Sincerely,

George Daily
