

SAJE Club Trail Report - Wolf Caves- November 11 2017

Link to Rafael's Photos: https://www.facebook.com/rafael.berdecia.7/media_set?set=a.1662950553756226.1073741894.100001238921086&type=3

Overall, our Club Run to Wolf Caves was fantastic, but more for some than others...more later...For Connie & me, it was a great way to end our almost 2 month long trip, which began near Amarillo for the Palo Duro Challenge in the beautiful Palo Duro Canyon. From there, we spent almost 3 weeks in Moab, Utah, and then went to St. George, Utah to run Sand Hollow for another 3 weeks. On the way home we stopped at Page, AZ, to see the awesome slot canyons of Antelope Canyon. A great trip, but we were looking forward to getting back to some Texas Jeepin'!

Anyway, we arrived at Wolf Caves on Thursday, got sent up and ready to start the weekend. Several other members showed up to wheel Friday as well.

Saturday, the weather was perfect, cool with cloud cover.

I think it's safe to say everyone had a great time, with maybe the exception of Shaun A., who rolled his Jeep on a slick climb on Friday afternoon, and Doug L., who was "test driving" a Jeep he is buying. Unfortunately, it had several small issues that were quite frustrating, but in the long run won't take too much to fix.

Certainly one of the highlights of the Club Run was the meal prepared by Donnalee, with a little help from Milt - :). Donnalee made a very tasty vegetable beef soup that was GREAT! (I had 3 bowls!) Thanks, Donnalee & Milt!