

Eric V. Fox

Director, Government Relations

In February 1999 Eric Fox was named the Senior Director of Government Relations for Lockheed Martin Aeronautics Company (LM Aero) located in Fort Worth, Texas. Eric is responsible for all Government and Legislative support activities for LM Aero. Eric coordinates Congressional support and helps Washington, D.C. constituent advocacy for key campaigns and other LM Aero business initiatives. Eric reports to Erin Moseley, LM Aero's Vice President for Business Development.

Prior to working for LM Aero, Eric worked 10 years in Washington, D.C. for several elected officials including Senator Conrad Burns of Montana, President George H.W. Bush, and Congressman Henry Bonilla of Texas.

A Fort Worth, Texas, native, Eric earned a bachelor's degree in political science and economics in 1988 from the Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas. Eric has three adult children, Taylor, Reilly, and Ryan.