Autism Center for Children to Sponsor at 2016 Autism Speaks Walk Georgia

Woodstock-based Center will be a Resource Fair Provider at the 12th Annual Event

Woodstock, GA – April 20, 2016 – Autism Center for Children, a practice advancing early diagnosis and treatment of autism in toddlers, today announced that it will be a resource fair provider at the 2016 Autism Speaks Walk. This annual event helps raise funds to support vital research and top-quality programs that are changing the future for those faced with autism. This year's Autism Speaks Georgia Walk is on Sunday, May 1st at Turner Field, Green Parking Lot, in Downtown Atlanta.

The Autism Center for Children invites all to attend for a fun family-filled day with games, make and take children's activities, other resource fair businesses catered specifically to the autism community, and opportunities to meet with local area sponsors and partners such as the Atlanta Braves, Atlanta Hawks, Game Truck, Zoo Atlanta and many more. Opening ceremonies begin at 9:00a and the event concludes at 12:00 noon.

"Autism Speaks Walk is an inspirational and impactful opportunity to raise money and awareness to help change the future for all those faced with autism," declares Dr. Julie Crittendon, head of the Autism Center for Children. "Participating in Autism Speaks Walk empowers us all to make a difference and to honor those with autism. We are proud to be a sponsor and resource fair provider."

The Autism Speaks Walk raises funds to fund biomedical research into the causes, prevention, treatments, and possible cure for autism; raise public awareness about autism and its effects on individuals, families and society; bring hope to all who deal with the hardships of this disorder; and to bring together the autism community as one strong voice to urge the government and private sector to take action.
