

Macy Dominey

Saxophone

Macy Dominey started her musical training at the age of eleven when she took up the alto saxophone in her 6th grade band. Macy is currently a senior at Berry College majoring in Instrumental Music Education and anticipates to graduate in May of 2020. She has most recently studied under Mr. Gary Paulo at Berry College. She is also currently student teaching at Lost Mountain Middle School in Kennesaw, GA. In her years at Berry she has been the principal alto saxophone and soprano player for the Berry College Wind ensemble. She has also performed in the Jazz Ensemble playing alto saxophone and the Saxophone Ensemble playing soprano saxophone. In addition to saxophone, Macy has recent experience in playing the flute and clarinet.

Macy is originally from Cordele, GA where she graduated from Crisp County High School in 2016. She participated in her high school's marching and concert band playing alto saxophone all four years as well as some soprano saxophone her senior year. During her senior year, Macy was selected to be section leader, woodwind captain during marching band season, and the student conductor for LGPE, where she received a superior rating.
