2. The Student

2.4) Please provide any additional comments you would like to convey to the instructor about YOUR performance in this class.

- Because of the way you pushed us to step outside of the box in terms of our thinking, I got so much out of this class both in terms of the material I learned and in terms of how I think and apply concepts.
- I believe that I was a very active student in this class by taking notes every class, participating in class discussion, asking questions, and communicating with my professor about accommodations or general questions.
- I had attended office hours, asked questions after class and in class.

3. The Professor

3.8) Please provide any additional comments you would like to convey about the professor's teaching:

- Easily the best professor I've had at QU. If there was an option more than "strongly agree", Professor Scauso would have earned it. He is clearly a master of his discipline and has thoroughly thought through everything he says.
- Given the circumstances, Prof. Scauso did a very good job at making the transition between face to face classes to online classes. The material covered was still understandable and the lectures were well paced. It was also a very enjoyable class.
- Great professor! Explains material really well, learned a lot!
- He was the absolute best professor
- One of the greatest professors I have ever taken. Learning in that class was actually fun because he made it fun. I was so interested not solely because of the concepts but because of how my perspective on learning and applying certain things had changed and become more engaging. He is such a sweet professor and makes you want to work and do well.
- Professor Scauso is a great professor and is very good at what he does. He teaches in a way that is engaging to students and makes us actually want to learn material and remember it for the future. His teaching style is also very effective and his assigned work is the right amount.
- Professor Scauso is one of the most knowledgeable and committed professor at Quinnipiac. He made the class fun and incredibly interesting.
- Professor Scauso is, by far, one of the greatest teachers I have ever had. He makes the lessons relatable, discussions fun and the assignments relevant and an opportunity to learn even more about particular topics. Scauso loves to teach and he shows it by how accessible he is to help people and check in with them on their performance and progress throughout the entire semester.
- Professor Scauso was very attentive and sensitive to my needs as a student and I highly appreciate that. I truly believe he puts all of his effort into teaching.
- Very committed to the subject and to teaching. Super supportive and provided a positive environment to learn in
- Very understanding during second half of the semester.
- goes above and beyond

4. Class Materials

4.3) Please provide any additional comments you would like to convey relevant to class materials:

- The book was a little hard to follow.
- The readings often were long and tedious and did not really add new material to what was learned in class.

5. The Course Overall

5.3) Please discuss any and all strengths and weaknesses related to this course:

- I'm not sure I can think of any weaknesses.

- International relations was an interesting course to take but the greatest strength of this class was the professor. It would not have been as enjoyable and interesting if it were not for the way he taught.
- Some of the lectures are fast paced but the teacher is very responsive to the students needs and always checks on how everyone is doing.
- sincerely amazing professor, planning on taking more of his classes. cant say enough good things

6. Online Experience

- 6.1) Were there specific aspects of the online experience that you found engaging or challenging in terms of helping you understand the course material?
- By making exams open note, posting lectures and recordings of class, and having office hours, professor Scauso was able to effectively accommodate us in this hard time.
 - Engaging - expanded office hours
 - Had the best transition to online courses
 - I think it is definitely more challenging to grasp information for a class like this through online classes, but Professor Scauso adjusted his teaching and the assignment instructions to make it more engaging.
 - N/A
 - Taking notes to send for participation really made me stay focused and not become distracted. I also was able to understand the concepts more because I was writing the notes in the way I interpreted them which I thought was extremely beneficial.
 - my personal internet was rough during this time as my whole family was on it so staying in calls was hard. When I was in, the online lectures were still effective.
