BACKGROUND and EXPERIENCE

David Walsh was born on October 1, 1957, in Corpus Christi, Texas. After obtaining his Masters in business, David worked as a computer programmer and project leader for IBM for nine years. After obtaining his law degree, David returned to South Texas. He is currently a member of the Corpus Christi Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. David has been admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court - Southern District of Texas.

David has managed large asbestos litigation dockets for multiple product manufacturers including John Crane, Georgia Pacific, and Synkoloid. These dockets required hundreds of depositions of fact and expert witnesses, written discovery, medical workups, court appearances and settlement negotiations. In addition, David has handled automobile accident dockets representing insureds from Fred Loya Insurance and other major automobile insurers. He has first chair trial experience including jury or bench trials in automobile accidents, asbestos, business disputes, invasion of privacy, employment disputes, and credit card/debt collection cases. David is a mediator in civil and family law, and he is a certified arbitrator for the BBB Auto Line Program. David looks forward to serving your litigation, mediation, arbitration, and non-litigation needs.
