Gospel: John 17: 11-19 "Fulfilling the Vision "

As He prepared His disciples for the coming of the Spirit, Jesus prayed in a very loving and intimate way for those to whom he was entrusting his mission. But his prayer looked far beyond these first disciples. When all is said and done, a religious community, and its doctrines and beliefs, are finally judged by the kind of people it produces. As we celebrate the feast of the Ascension, and anticipating the gift of the Spirit on Pentecost, Jesus' words take on an additional meaning today for us, the descendants in faith of those first followers of his.

Jesus prays for those who are dear to Him, but he knows that it will not be his miracles that will engender faith; it will not be his message that sparks truth. Only when the lives of his followers project a unique and genuine oneness will their witness be authentic and compelling.

And so, we see him praying for four things - unity, joy, holiness, and mission; "Father - keep them safe, keep them united ('that they may be one'), keep them joyful ('that they may have my joy'), keep them consecrated ('sanctify them in the truth'), keep them mobilized for the mission ('so I have sent them into the world')."

Jesus left his followers with a mission that would provide the impetus for all they were to do - to take the knowledge of salvation to the entire world - no small task. This mission provides focus and meaning for our existence. It is only by staying focused on the mission that we remain alert, open to the gift of the Spirit and ready to fulfill the vision of the reign of God.
