

Bio of Paula Moore

When you chat with Paula, it won't take too long before the conversation turns to creative endeavors, whether it be a new art class or workshop she's teaching, a new pet portrait commission or new design idea. Missouri watercolorist, Paula Moore speaks of her love of art beginning at an early age weaving a wonderful life path. Since retiring from a 30 year banking career, she has returned to her 1st love of teaching and creating art. Watercolor is her favorite medium however she also works in acrylic, batik, pencil across the gambit of realistic, impressionism, abstract art, and unique language of design. After her family, she cherishes her little rescue dog, Snickers, fiber arts, bluebirds and herb gardening. Paula has received numerous art awards, taught in WOCE National Conventions, in person & on line classes. She combines her love for travel and teaching innovative art workshops across the country.

Paper Kaleidoscopes Maze

Explore how the 7 elements and 8 principles of design weave together to create a successful painting, every time! You'll start out with a blank piece of paper & I'll lead you through the decision process as your original paper kaleidoscope emerges into view. This theory class is applicable to all art mediums; however watercolor paints or colored pencils will work best on paper. Prepared paper is provided. Bring your regular watercolor supplies & a black pigma micron pen. Cost is $30 which includes the $5.00 venue fee & instructions, and valuable instructional resources. Read more details & register on my website. Workshop size is limited to 9 participants. <https://paulamooreart.com/class-calendar>.
