

PRAYING WITH A BROKEN HEART

I asked you for the light
You gave me a long, dark night
Gave me shadows for my path
There was no turning back
And you whispered "hold on tight"
I asked you for some peace of mind
So you gave me a fire inside
And how I wrestled with the truth
Went round and round with you
Could not shake you but I tried
It's like dancing with a stone
Oh how I'm trying to let go

So I pray with a broken heart
That's where the healing starts
Sing the song of a wayward child
"Be Thou my vision"
I'm looking for another sign
Mercy in a sweet sunrise
Wanna be wherever you are
I'm praying with a broken heart
I'm praying with a broken heart

I asked you for a little faith
And you put a mountain in my way
And I've wasted so much time
Nothing left to do but climb
Now every step is grace
Only you could start a fire
On such an empty mountainside

For all we lost in Eden
For all I still believe in
