

HEALTH FOR ALL. EVERYWHERE.

12.12.15

UNIVERSAL HEALTH COVERAGE DAY

Three years ago on 12 December, the United Nations unanimously endorsed a resolution urging universal access to quality health care without financial hardship. With the new Sustainable Development Goals calling for universal health coverage, now is the time to hold policymakers accountable for expanding health services to all.

On 12.12.15, a global coalition will call for greater action and progress on delivering universal health coverage. Join 600+ global partners including founding leaders The Rockefeller Foundation, World Bank Group and World Health Organization in standing for health for all.

WHY #HEALTHFORALL?

- Nobody should go bankrupt when they get sick.
- Universal health coverage is attainable.
- Universal health coverage can stop the world's biggest killers.
- Health transforms communities, economies and nations.
- Health is a right, not a privilege.

GLOBAL SHOW OF SOLIDARITY

DISPLAY a prominent sign of support for Universal Health Coverage Day, such as on your website, blog or social media profile.

EDUCATE your networks about the important linkages between the issues you work on and universal access to health.

INVITE others to join in Universal Health Coverage Day, including political, business and religious leaders and media.

12.12.15

UHCDay.org

@UHC_Day