

Just in time for the 150th Anniversary of the ending of the Civil War!
A Historical Genealogical Memoir

BACK THERE, THEN

by Marietta Stevens Crichlow

with notes by her daughter

Linda Crichlow White

Recorded by Marietta Crichlow, this book chronicles stories of some Glovers, Garlands, Stevenses, Crichlows and others . . . beginning before the Civil War and tied to Nelson County; Appomattox County; and Lynchburg, Virginia; continuing into the 20th century to Duquesne, Pennsylvania; and Washington, DC—notably LeDroit Park and Petworth.

Marietta and family are descended from people who were enslaved by Wilmer McLean at Appomattox Court House. It was in Wilmer McLean's home that Robert E. Lee surrendered to Ulysses S. Grant in 1865. Our ancestors were there. The stories herein tell some of the trails the family took over the ensuing years.

Filled with lots of primary source documents, this book will provide YOU with ideas of how to document YOUR family history!
