

THE JOHN DONOHUE MEMORIAL AWARD 2015

This award is intended to celebrate and perpetuate John's love of Latin and the way it enriched his life even after he stopped teaching. Every graduating National Latin Exam Scholar who has maintained that status throughout his or her undergraduate studies will receive a John Donohue Memorial Award of $1000. These award recipients are not required to attend graduate school in Classics or to enter a career in the field.

Joshua Davids (Carleton College)
Zachary Fletcher (Harvard University)
Rebecca Gerdes (Smith College)
Mason Johnson (Rhodes College)
Woojin Kim (Johns Hopkins University)
Bernard Lin (Rutgers University)
Melissa Luttmann (College of the Holy Cross)
Alison Rosenberg (Wesleyan University)
Kelci Schilly (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)
India Watkins (Davidson College)
Elliot Wilson (Harvard University)

SERIT ARBORES, QUAE ALTERI SAECLO PROSINT

{He plants trees to benefit the next generation}