

It is always GREAT to return lost items to their owners, especially with a story like this one! The “finders” were boaters on the “Lucille” from Wisconsin who were boating and docked in Newark on June 13 & 14, 2021. They dined at Craft 120 and found a diamond ring in the parking lot. They continued their journey and sent the ring to the Newark Police “lost & found” which arrived on June 25. Upon checking with Craft 120 manager, Jess, if anyone was looking for a lost ring within the past month, she immediately recalled a Facebook post with a picture. Jess reached out through Messenger and contacted the owner, Emily Landuyt. Emily, from Ithaca, indicated she was in Newark and the ring been lost in the area of Craft 120 parking lot on June 13. The ring held sentimental value as it was a gift from her mother. This culminated with the return of the ring to her mother, Tina Walton on July 01, 2021.
