Vol. 2 No. 2 ~ Spring 2017

A Word to the Fore: This Bountiful Spring

Spring, the season of renewal, is here at last! We've been enjoying the greenery here while it lasts...although the heat of impending summer is moving in fast.

This issue begins our two-part tribute to the late Marney J. Walerius, godmother of the model horse hobby, who passed away 25 years ago last April 3. Thanks to all who answered the call for memories about Marney! You'll find them starting on page 4 this issue (also featured this issue: numbered pages, woo!), along with photos of Marney and some choice Model Horse Congress moments contributed by Julie Froelich.

Next issue will focus on the dispersal sale of Marney's vast collection, and its surviving vintage customs. If you have any, please help us treat 'em to some well-deserved time in the spotlight!

Speaking of the spotlight, Sarah Minkiewicz-Breunig's tireless promotion of vintage customs has been fueling a real feel-good phenomenon in her A Good Vintage show series—and the North American Model Horse Shows Association has taken note, deciding to make A Good Vintage IV the centerpiece of NAMHSA activity this summer in lieu of its usual North American Nationals show!

"July 13 in Lexington, Kentucky is going to showcase the party of the year! Exploring new directions and celebrating our shared past, it promises to be the premier event of the season! Don't miss it!" reads the promo—and there's a great new place where you can find out more: "Vintage Vibrance" (<http://vintvibrance.blogspot.com>), Sarah's own superb blog devoted to vintage customs, and home of the A Good Vintage show series! It's an absolute must-read, and features

In March, we at the Vintage Custom Model Equine Center were thrilled to receive a package from Laurel Orrin, whose photography services helped make the work of Linda Leach and Mary Sue Bar-num stars in model horse photo-showings in the 1970s and '80s. Laurel donated to our Museum a quartet of vintage custom equines from her longtime collection!

This important group is led by an early creation by Michigan artist Linda Leach: a Breyer Proud Arabian Stallion customized from its original standing position to become a boldly trotting fleabitten grey Arabian mare. Laurel owned this horse since the mid-1970s, and believes it is the first model on which Linda Leach resculpted the legs.

At the mare's side is a beautiful bay filly, positioned running with her thread mane and tail streaming, created by Elaine McDaniel in 2001 from the standing Breyer Family Arabian Foal.

The noted equine sculptor Candace Liddy customized some Breyer horses in the 1990s, and thanks to Laurel, the Museum now has a marvelous Liddy example from 1995. This trotting bay stallion is a real hefty handful; it took a lot of epoxy and resculpting to complete his transformation from what may have been the Breyer Classic Lipizzan!

Completing the quartet is an engaging Appaloosa foal that Laurie Jo Jensen created from a Breyer Classic Andalusian Foal in 1999. Laurie Jo has conducted painting workshops at BreyerFest and designed colorways for Stone Model Horses, and this colorful guy really shows off her paintwork.

Thank you so much, Laurel--the Museum is honored to welcome this wonderful quartet! They're safely behind glass in a temporary cabinet as they await the opening of the VCMEC Hobby House & Museum.

Bailing Twine, Bubble Gum, and a Will of Iron: Remembering Marney

April 3 marked the passage of 25 years since the world lost Marney J. Walerius, godmother of the model horse hobby. To celebrate her life and legacy, this issue gathers some favorite Marney stories, peppered with peeks at fun entries in her annual Model Horse Congress live show! For those not fortunate enough to have met her, below is a must-read 1992 tribute (uncredited, but written on behalf of the hobby by Ardith Carlton with the assistance of Julie Froelich), courtesy of The Hobby Horse News and White Horse Productions' Model Horse History page (<http://www.whitehorseproductions.com/history.html>).

A Tribute to Marney J. Walerius

She brought thousands of us together, and turned others' sneers at our "playing with toys" into curiosity and, finally, respect. She was a driving force in founding a hobby where education is exciting; where we have competition and sportsmanship, the thrill of creation, the satisfaction in a job well done. Where horses do not die, and where lifelong friendships can be made.

In the quarter-century that she helped guide our hobby's history, we have been striving hard to capture the illusion of life in miniature. The harsh reality of life is out there, but, thankfully, has rarely made itself felt—beyond the losses of sculptors Christian Hess and Rich Rudish, the hobby still seems like a joyous new endeavor, with untold fun to be had, discoveries to be made, and ideas to be pioneered. We may never reach the horizon, but think of the wonderful time that's ahead for us, trying to!

But on April 3, 1992, the model horse hobby's childhood came to an abrupt end. Marney J. Walerius died of a heart attack at age 43.

Marney did not single-handedly found the hobby; friends Simone Smiljanic (who with Marney co-founded the International Model Horse Association), Karen and Sandra Baehr (who produced the newsletter Plastic Horse World) and Ellen Hitchens (editor of The Hitching Post) were also instrumental. But that quartet eventually left the hobby for other pursuits, and for the last decade, Marney was the only hobby founder still actively involved, still reachable and answering questions, still teaching and involving others.

She began collecting Breyers in 1960 (a collection that would come to include 5,000 horses), and eight years later Marney was the hobby's "squeaky wheel," writing to Breyer's management about problems with models. The result was any hobbyist's dream come true: she was asked to be a consultant for the company, and Marney helped guide color and mold choices to improve the realism of Breyer's releases.

Informal live shows had been held sporadically in backyards and living rooms beginning in the late 1960s, and in 1973 and 1974, Marney's own backyard featured an event that would soon graduate to hotel ballrooms and grow into an annual, four-day model extravaganza, the International Model Horse Congress.

Seventeen renewals of the event were held under Marney's direction and selfless dedication. One year, she had eye surgery just before the show; another year she slipped in an elevator during the show and broke her leg. Yet neither setback could stop her, and the show, from going on. Her body was fragile, but her determination kept her going.

In fact, Marney was seemingly made of bailing twine, bubble gum, and a will of iron. Long a diabetic, she eventually lost a leg to the disease when her brittle bones could not heal. Marney had suffered broken bones and undergone various surgeries throughout her life, and her health worsened.

Marney traveled throughout North America nonetheless, guest-judging at live shows and making herself available to help and educate hobbyists. And at the inaugural BreyerFest at the Kentucky Horse Park in 1990, Marney was presented the BreyerFest Recognition Award for years of support and encouragement to all who collect Breyer models: an OF black tobiano Saddlebred Weanling.

The ultimate authority on Breyer OF models, Marney was given a new goal to target in the late 1980s, when a Breyer reference book she had written—based on records she had painstakingly compiled since 1960—became snarled in snafus with two backers. The unpublished manuscript was in limbo for over six years, before Marney managed to rescue it.

Her deep conviction to share her knowledge with all collectors, and help them fully understand the product they were collecting, drove her determination to put everything she had into getting the book published herself. And in February 1992, a 3,000-copy printing of The Breyer Models Reference and Insurance Guide at last became a reality.

Two months later, having left the world and the hobby a better place, Marney was buried in Minnesota.

Her mother Elaine and brother Gary will sort through her papers as soon as Elaine has recovered from upcoming surgeries, and it is asked that hobbyists please do not bother the family about Marney's belongings. Contact Bentley Sales Company (642 Sandy Lane, Des Plaines, IL 60016) with questions you may have. Bentley also will handle sales of the book.

At BreyerFest, this August 1 at the Kentucky Horse Park, a tree and stone marker will be dedicated in Marney's name. The tree grows in a place she loved, and symbolizes the hobby growing from the roots Marney helped establish. May her tree, and our hobby, continue to grow and flourish for generations to come.

Nance Feldman remembered, "Marney had a great, positive influence on me as a young teen in the mid-70s.

"I had little idea what I was doing but I really wanted to participate in model horse showing. When a live show hosted by Marney was announced in one of the model horse publications, my Dad agreed to drive with my Mom and me to Barrington, IL. Marney was so welcoming and encouraging! When I babbled about my entries and their flaws Marney kept replying, 'That doesn't bother me.' I began feeling more confident and had a great time! I will always remember that first show."

Kathy Wells wrote, "The first time I met Marney in person, it was like a time warp. Friends who know her best know Marney was wardrobe-challenged. It was 1975 and she was meeting my sister and I at O'Hare. This lady dressed in '60s western fashion, stretch polyester denim western jeans tucked into tall pointy-toed western boots, snap-button western yolk blouse, the kind Dale Evans would be proud to wear, and long brown loose hair. All that was missing was a holster and cowboy hat. Marney was quite a sight to behold.

"When I knew her better I enquired about her wardrobe and she told me it was an old riding ensemble. Still perfectly good. No use throwing it out. Marney was quite the gymkhana rider with her pinto in a Tiff years earlier.

"One year someone suggested that Marney only held Congress to make gobs and gobs of money to live off. Grrr. This was long before the Internet. Ya know I've no idea if she ever made a profit off Congress but after being there and seeing first hand the hard work she put into it, if she did, good for her!

"I remember one year the day before Congress we went on a road trip to I believe Indiana to rescue a shower whose car died on the freeway. It was a long trip that took the better part of Thursday but we rescued this shower and transferred all her models and luggage into the station wagon. That was Marney.

"My most lasting impression is how she vividly described the growth of our hobby as it is NOW way back in the early '80s."

Julie Froelich shared, "After Marney got diabetes, she had to have a leg amputated, and it caused her a lot of trouble and pain. There was a lot of trouble with the stump and adapting it to various artificial legs, and there were many occasions when she was judging at Congress and was in tears due to the pain. At times like that, lots of us would do everything we could to help her out in any way that we could. She often had to remove her artificial leg and use a wheelchair to judge.

"Because of her leg, she had handicapped plates on her car. One time, she had gone to a store, and found that an able-bodied person had thoughtlessly parked their car in the handicapped spot.

"Marney was, of course, furious, but she had her own way of dealing with this. She got on the phone and called the police, and then she called the local newspaper. When the guy came out of the store to retrieve his car, he found Marney on the hood of his car with her artificial leg off, beating the hood of his car with her artificial leg for the newspaper cameras!

"Marney commissioned some horses from me over the years, although she didn't have a particularly favorite breed, pose or color of horse. For example, when she commissioned the horse that would eventually become RM Colorvision, she asked for 'a stock mare in chestnut pinto,' and I just went from there.

"Her collection was across a broad spectrum of breeds. I went to the dispersal sale that was held after she passed away, and there were any number of different breeds represented among the custom horses there. Although she did seem to have a fondness for unusual stuff, and she certainly asked me to paint more than a few dapple greys for her!"

Kathy Wells added, "One of Marney's most winningest remakes was a three-gaited American Saddlebred by Kathleen Maestas...Imperial Diamond? He was a bay with a roached mane, in action.

"I was with Marney when she met this model for the first time. It was the only time Kathleen and her husband Louis drove to Congress. We had a private showing of Kathleen's sales horses. I wanted this model very badly but he was quite pricey. I even suggested to Marney that we purchase him in partnership and share him. Marney didn't dismiss the idea but she wanted to know where the model was going to reside. In the end Marney bought him for herself. Being the show hostess she had first pick. I settled for another. But geez, what a thrill, getting to see the sales horses first!

"Marney was extremely proud of her remakes," Kathy continued. "Marney lacked the skills to remake but she made up for this by literally entering her horses in every conceivable class.

It was not unusual back then for horses to do it all, English, western, harness, costume etc. All you needed was the tack and good photos. So her horses won by default, having entered every class they could. I often judged photo shows and Marney's horses were always well represented.

"Marney was SO PROUD of Miss Sneaker Feet, a walking palomino Lady Phase she had done herself. The walking was done simply by heating the legs up and twisting and pulling into motion. The upper body was never touched but the legs looked like she was walking on egg shells. The poor horse looked extremely lame. Like she had navicular in all four legs. No one had the heart to tell her the horse looked lame. Ironic though, out of all of Marney's models this is the one I would have liked as a keepsake and wondered her fate."

Trying to make judge Marney smile was a mission for some showers, including Julie Froelich. Julie recalled, "One year at Model Horse Congress I saw Marney mark down the Western Trail entry of a shower whose trail obstacle consisted of an outhouse, with the horse tied up outside, awaiting its owner to finish their pit stop. She marked the display down because when Marney opened the outhouse door, it was empty!

"So I decided to fix that. I made my own outhouse trail obstacle, and took a John Duke Mego doll from the 'Dukes of Hazzard' and remade him so he was anatomically correct. I also detailed the outhouse to the nines, with a newspaper for him to read painstakingly xeroxed down from our local newspaper, a roll of toilet paper, a wasp nest inside the outhouse, and a bird's nest on the outside, complete with baby swallows inside the nest. The handle on the outhouse was missing and had been replaced with a piece of rope, based on memories of many outhouses I'd encountered myself.

"At the next show where Marney judged, I carefully set up my outhouse, tied the horse outside, and added John Duke at his leisure with his newspaper inside the outhouse. And then I waited.

"Sure enough, when Marney got to my display, I heard a loud indignant shriek, and then: 'JULIE!!'

"What?' I replied innocently.

"You KNOW...!' Marney exclaimed.

"Did you open the outhouse door?' I asked.

"Yes!'

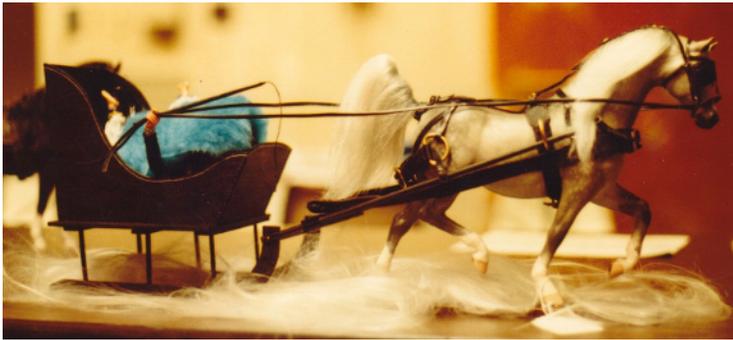

"Well then,' I laughed, 'you got what you deserved!'"

Kathy Wells has fond memories of trips with Marney. "There was the time we rode the train into downtown Chicago to the main Breyer Animal Creations headquarters. I'm a farm girl. I had never been in a city that size. I met Peter Stone's father, the CEO of Breyer Molding Company. Breyer did injection molding, inserts for suitcases and other items. The models were only a sideline.

"On another trip we drove to the Rockford plant where the models were shipped from. This is where I met Peter Stone for the first time. Peter was President of Breyer Animal Creations and VP of Breyer Molding. Imagine an entire warehouse full of models! At the end of a brief tour Marney asked my help in loading some models. Believe it or not we proceeded to fill up the family station wagon with 'reject' Breyer horses. You can fit a lot of bodies into a station wagon. I was getting really nervous. Marney said to help myself. I modestly took 4-5 and felt guilty at that. When Marney saw how few I was taking she urged me to take more. So I added a 6th while she crammed several more into the wagon. When I protested she said they'll never miss these, it's OK, I do this all the time. Indeed she did. Marney was on disability by this time and she literally lived off her model sales. On the way home we swung by Peter Stone's farm near the Rockford plant. Marney stopped to say hi to his family."

Julie Froelich reminisced about another visit to the company. "Back when Peter Stone still worked for Breyer, at the time when Marney was doing some work for Breyer herself, he had promised her a particular test run model. She and I and a couple of other people went to Breyer for a tour, and she was excited because Peter had told her he'd give her the model at the tour, and she was telling us all about it in the car on the way there.

"However, unbeknownst to Marney, Peter Stone decided to keep the model rather than give it to her. During the tour, Marney spotted the model sitting on a sideboard, and unfortunately Peter Stone did not give her the model when the tour ended. In the car on the way back home, one of the other people who'd attended the tour with us reached into her purse and handed the model to Marney--she'd 'liberated' it while they were on the way out!"

Ardith Carlton wrote, "Back in those lazy hazy pre-Internet days, Corky Visminas and I once had the crazy luck to find a blue OF Running Mare with a few other old Breyers (in, of all places, a used record shop!). We'd heard of OF Breyers called 'decorators' that were blue or gold, but had never actually seen one, so got on the horn to our model guru, Julie Froelich. Julie suggested calling Marney and gave me her phone number.

"I had never met Marney and was too shy to call for a few days, but curiosity finally won out--and when I rang, Marney was very welcoming and seemed tickled that I'd been sent her way. She encouraged me to describe the horse, and then calmly and analytically asked some questions about things like the shade of blue and whether there were areas of white showing through on the mare's body...and then, although she understandably couldn't say 100% for sure without seeing the horse, she congratulated us on having found what sure sounded to be an OF decorator Wedgewood Running Mare! That was the only time I had the good fortune to speak with Marney, but will always remember her expertise, humility, and just plain kindness."

Corky Visminas recalled, "I talked to her on the phone once; she'd called to talk to Liz Bouras, I think, and I got the call first. I was like, 'OMG, you're Marney Walerius! I'm so thrilled to talk to you!' and she laughed and said 'Why!?!' We got to chat for a few minutes, which was very enjoyable for me. Then at Breyerfest, I believe the same year, I got to meet her face to face. I shook her hand, told her I loved showing model horses, that I'd been collecting them since I was 4, and that I was very grateful to her for her hand in starting the hobby. She was again very humble and lots of fun to talk to.

"Ardith was part of the committee who brought together the first NAMHSA North American Nationals show, and a couple of days before the first-ever NAN show in 1995, I had a dream about Marney.

"I was in a cornfield on a blue-sky day, with the corn towering high. Marney was there as well, smiling and looking very hale and hearty. I told her about NAN, how so many people had worked so hard to make this show a reality, and that everyone was very excited that it was finally going to happen. She seemed very pleased by this.

"In the background, Scully and Mulder from 'X-Files' were standing next to a Volkswagen Beetle. Scully kept looking at her watch. I guess Marney's time to say hello from the other side was drawing short. I'm just glad I had a chance to tell her about NAN, and that she seemed to approve."

In closing, Kathy Wells confided, "There are times I feel her presence. None more so than just after I received word of her passing.

"Bonnie (Sumser) Elber called to tell me of Marney's passing. I held myself together until I got off the phone. Then I lost it. I started sobbing uncontrollably.

"Suddenly I was not alone. I distinctly heard Marney's voice and felt her presence. I was enveloped in a warm hug and message, 'Please don't cry for me, I don't hurt anymore. I have my leg back, I am free.'

"I've only told a couple people this encounter. It was very real and oh so Marney. There have been other times I have felt her presence. But none as vivid as the first. I keep a curio size photo of her in my kitchen. She taught me so much."

Five months after her passing, Marney's vast collection of original finish and customized model horses was dispersed in an epic two-day sale and auction held at her home in Illinois.

Next issue we'll take a look back at that sale of the century, and will also feature some of those now-vintage customs that hailed from Marney's herd!

If you're lucky enough to have one (or more!) and would like it to appear, could you please e-mail its photo and any thoughts you'd like to share about it to us at vcmecmodelhorsereview@gmail.com by August 1?

Thanks so much for helping preserve memories!

Victory Lap!

Shortly before press time, and without revealing who'd won what, owners of each division's Overall Champions and Reserve Champs were invited to share their thoughts about these superb vintage customs. Here's what they said!

MUSTAFA BEY

Bloody-shoulder grey Arabian stallion, CM by Julie Froelich in 1979

1960s/'70s Overall Champion Breed and Overall Reserve Champion Workmanship

Corky Visminas writes, "I'm so tickled with how Mustafa Bey is doing--the old boy is doing himself proud! He's only being shown in VCMEC, and it always feels good when a model by an artist I admire, done on a mold that's one of my favorites, shows well. In this case, it's extra special because the competition here is some of the stiffest I've seen in a long time!"

ANDRO UMEDA

Chestnut Arabian stallion, CM by Nancy Strowger in 1978

1960s/'70s Overall Champion Color

Ardith Carlton writes, "I first saw this superlative guy, then named Amir Rabdan (now he's his son ;^), on Liz Bouras' web page showcasing her Strowger collection (<http://www.psychotica.net/evb/amarna/nancy.html>). His luscious chestnut coat grabbed my eye and wouldn't let go—and when Liz parted with some of her cherished herd a few years ago, I leaped at the chance to give him a new home! I still remember the thrill of unwrapping him to find that as amazing as he looked online, he's even more awesome in person! After posing for his show photo here at the edge of Japan's Kanto plain, he's been safely kept in my china cabinet. He gets ogled almost daily, and every time, I marvel that I'm lucky enough to be his caretaker. (Thanks again, Liz!)"

DANE TYLER BENNINGTON

Chestnut Morgan stallion, CM by Laura Hornick in the 1970s
1960s/'70s Overall Champion Workmanship

Lois Bennington writes, "Do you ever wish you could go back in time and do something different? I wish I had written down 'creation' information of my vintages, but this is what I remember of Dane Tyler Bennington. I saw a chestnut done by Laura Hornick(-Behning) and wanted a model done in that color. I picked the Justin Morgan because it was (still is) one of my favorite models. I think the instructions were: chesntut/haired with minimum markings. Laura did a wonderful job on him!"

"Using the name 'Bennington' was a no-brainer since there is a famous Morgan named Bennington and also my name. Dane Tyler? Well, if I had ever had a son, that would have been his name. Dane has held up wonderfully and is one of my favorites here at Verhalen Stables."

In previous issues, Beth Peart shared her thoughts about this epic creation. This time, she shared a time-machine look, via a photo by Kathy Wells, at Marney Walerius' Model Horse Congress circa 1979! She writes, "Here's a pic of my 'herd' at Congress. Both Birchwood Geisha Boy and [his tandem teammate] Shales Commander are in it."

"I am not sure what I can add to the legend of BGB...lol. Perhaps just a word about the versatility of Hackneys, because we tend to think of them as carriage horses, yet 40 years ago, give or take, there was a man near my home town of Welland, Ontario, who had a liver chestnut Hackney mare, originally named 'Flicka.' She was a show jumper. She came clippedy-clopping, prancing into the ring, snorting and huffing, her veins popping under her skin. Yep, she was hot. She had the most collected canter ever, haha. And she was utterly memorable. She could jump, and was quite a spectacle to watch. All these years later, I remember Flicka."

Ardith Carlton writes, "Another of the standout Strowgers that Liz Bouras so kindly sold me! Originally known as Sierra El Rayo, and now a son of that identity, Tiny Harper (named for my favorite character in the U.S.-ification of a Japanese anime series Nancy Strowger was fond of, "Science Ninja Team Gatchaman") has some neat customization touches, from his resculpted tail to the paintwork on his mane to make it appear shorter than the unchanged molded mane under the paint. I love this moosey guy so much, and am so happy that he did well in this crazy-tough competition!"

SYMPATHY FOR THE DEMON

Flaxen black liver chestnut Morgan stallion, CM by Julie Froelich in 1986

1980s Overall Champion Breed and Workmanship

Ardith Carlton writes, "Am thrilled that this epic stallion—the second of Julie Froelich's masterpiece Morgans remade from a Breyer Lady Phase—did well! But it's moving too that he gets to be featured in this issue devoted to Marney Walerius, because Marney was in a way responsible for him coming into my hands."

"Soon after Marney passed away in April 1994, Julie bought a memorial tree for her at the Kentucky Horse Park, with the plaque 'In Memory of Marney J. Walerius: Roots of the Model Horse Hobby.' Julie had acted alone in making this beautiful tribute possible, and only mentioned it when sharing Marney stories with me for the memorial I was writing that ran in The Hobby Horse News."

"Corky and I were strapped for cash, what with costs for the upcoming trip to BreyerFest, but wanted to contribute in some way. That way announced itself

BIRCHWOOD GEISHA BOY

Bay Hackney Horse gelding, CM by Beth Peart in 1977

1960s/'70s Overall Reserve Champion Breed

TINY HARPER

Chestnut semi-leopard Appaloosa stallion, CM by Nancy Strowger in 1977

1960s/'70s Overall Reserve Champion Color

when we went to the monthly Scotts Antique Market at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, where there were almost never any model horses: The world's most gorgeous OF Breyer glossy charcoal Mustang, nose skyward, awaited us!

"We brought him to BreyerFest, intending to sell him and send the proceeds to Julie as a thank-you from the hobby for the tree. As we were starting to tag the sale horses in our room, though, a hobbyist walked in, carrying an open box with a few remakes standing in it. She was looking to trade for vintage OFs. Among the horses standing in her box were RM Dancing Star, who was a Lady Phase CM as a dun QH mare that Julie had once mentioned regretting selling, and Sympathy For The Demon, who the hobbyist pointed out was having a strange filler issue, with a small soft area.

"She was crazy for the OF glossy charcoal Mustang...and by trade's end, Corky and I had both RM Dancing Star, who we sent to Julie as a thank-you present from the hobby for Marney's tree, and Sympathy For The Demon, one of Julie's most iconic remakes, for ourselves. The way it all worked out--complete with the filler issue healing itself within a few months--we treasure Sympathy For The Demon all the more, suspecting Marney had something to do with nudging the planets into alignment!"

21ST CENTURY BOY

Silver dapple American Show Shetland Pony stallion, CM by Julie Froelich in 1987

1980s Overall Reserve Champion Breed, Color, and Workmanship

Kay Myers writes, "Customized from the Breyer Classic Man O' War by Julie Froelich in 1987. His name comes from a song by the band Sigue Sigue Sputnik and he has the SSS Syndicate brand on his left hind quarter. Originally owned by Julie, then Laurie Jo Jensen. Laurie gave him to her daughter Merryll with strict instructions that he could only ever be sold to me or Sarah Minkiewicz-Breunig.

"That said, this swaggering stud has a past! Paula O'Keefe calls it, 'The meeting of the Killer Glam Ponies: Julie Froelich's 21st Century Boy, and Colonel Megalomania (a/k/a 'and who does YOUR hair?') by Judy [Renee Pope]. The pink hair and 'high heels' were key character points. I *think* they were both originally Classic Men O'War."

RED HOT RYDER

Chestnut Quarter Horse stallion, CM by Tom Bainbridge in the 1980s

1980s Overall Champion Color

Ardith Carlton writes, "This beefarocious hunk has been one of my favorite Bainbridge horses ever since seeing him on Tom's area of the online Model Horse Gallery 20-some years ago. Then named My Hero, he turned up for sale at long last in 2011, from a seller who doesn't ship internationally—but my brother back home kindly accepted the package, and then cheered me up in those difficult times following Japan's Great Tohoku Earthquake by repacking him in a surprise care package to me with more of my favorite candy, Red Hots, than I've seen in my life! Made me cry, the scamp. In celebration of the occasion, this Adonis of an Adios became 'Red Hot Ryder.' He's made for happy memories ever since, and I'm thrilled that he earned this time in the spotlight!"

MARS FLASH

Dun overo Paint stallion, CM by Carol Williams in 1990

1990s Overall Champion Breed and Workmanship

Last issue Ardith Carlton shared some details on how this flashy guy--a Breyer Adios remade with a ceramic head Carol Williams cast from what would become her RRQH1 sculpture--came to be.

This time she adds, "I was out of the hobby for a good decade, and when I got back in, dun and buckskin overo custom horses kept finding their way to me. It was as though Mars Flash had been 'busy' in the meantime, getting a next generation ready to greet me!

"I felt almost like Rip Van Winkle, waking up to find that Naoto Nisei's best son (Mars Flash was fittingly destined to be Naoto Nisei's best, since he looks nothing like his daddy ;^)) was already carrying on as a fine sire."

GOLDEN MALICIOUS

Smutty palomino Quarter Horse mare, CM by Sarah King in 1991

1990s Overall Champion Color

Ardith Carlton writes, "This eye-grabbing gal hails from Liz Bouras' hallowed herd of works by Nancy Strowger and her various pseudonyms. On her web site, Liz said of this treasure, 'Breyer Lady Phase painted to a spectacular dappled smutty palomino QH mare under the pseudonym 'Sarah King' with a hair mane & tail. One of only two 'Sarah Kings' that I know of, they are easily among Nancy's most advanced & artistic works! MANY MANY thanks to Jeannine DeCuir for allowing me to purchase this mare I have been trying to buy for almost 10 years!'

"A few years later, I was honored that Liz allowed me to become this landmark mare's new owner! One of her old photos was labelled Gold Dust Lady, the other Gold Dust Woman, and as I was debating which name to show this no-nonsense mare as, the name of a roller derby skater suddenly came to mind—end of debate!"

AMANTUS VS

Brown Trakehner stallion, CM by Diane Capwell in the 1990s

1990s Overall Reserve Champion Breed

Sophie Nordstrom writes, "I'm really really happy he did so well that you want me to write something about him.

"Amantus VS is one of my favourite customs. I have seen him for *years*, but haven't been able to buy him, until a few months ago. I was working and had a few minutes so I logged in on Facebook and what do you know! There he was in the vintage group and he was FOR SALE.

"I KNEW I had to have him so I put down an offer. I was later outbid, but I was determined to get him so I gave a new offer and I was prepared to go higher, but didn't need to. I got him!

"A week or so later, he arrived with me and he's never going to leave as long as I'm alive. I love that horse. And I have waited soo long to own him... He's now behind glass in my living room so I can see him every day, and I admit that I take him out several days a week just to look at him. If you love him on photos, you should see him IRL.

"Thank you so much having these shows. I have really really enjoyed looking at all the beautiful models. There is something special about vintage models."

ASUKA RYO

Chestnut Arabian stallion, CM by Tom Bainbridge in 1991

1990s Overall Reserve Champion Color

Ardith Carlton writes, "There was a great Strowger named *Tropic...heh, that's not the start of a limerick, just the indirect start of this horse!

"Back in the fuzzy reaches of the '80s becoming the '90s, Tom Bainbridge and I were chatting about favorite models, and I mused that one horse that must be unimaginably awesome to own must be Julie Froelich's *Tropic, a Hagen-Rena-ker Nataf that Nancy Strowger repainted a glowing chestnut.

"Go-getter Tom was just getting established as an artist, and some time later he called me with a mind-blowing offer: He had just completed an amazing repaint and would sell it to me at a bargain price, if I would get the horse into the public eye by campaigning it everywhere I could, live and photo.

"It was a glorious chestnut Nataf!

"Asuka Ryo (named for a character in Go Nagai's monumental manga "Devilman") became one of my winningest-ever horses,,and always drew a crowd at live shows. I'm so happy that he's doing well nowadays too in VCMEC... and while you're reading, let me mention again 'cause it's part of the bargain, Asuka Ryo was created by Tom Bainbridge. ;^ ) (Heartfelt thanks again for this treasure, Tom!)"

RM PRAVDA

Grey Arabian stallion, CM by Julie Froelich in 1990

1990s Overall Reserve Champion Workmanship

Corky Visminas writes, "The Proud Arabian Mare makes a lovely mare, but re-makes into a magnificent stallion too-- and RM Pravda is proof of that!

"He was a gift from dear friend Ann Bilon, and is a near-perfect match to my beloved Angel Queen, who is also a PAM remade by Julie Froelich into a dapple grey Arabian. RM Pravda hasn't seen very much action in the show ring--I live-showed him once and have not photo-shown him until recently, and now I'm asking myself why the heck not!"
