

TRAINING PROGRAMS

Jassivy Reitnauer

CONTACT

PHONE:
(703) 945-4103

WEBSITE:
www.delta-forensics.com

EMAIL:
andrew@delta-forensics.com

Onsite Training Fact Sheet

Delta Forensics Training Programs

Forensic Interviewing, Principles and Techniques

40 Hours

$599/person

Scope: This class is to serve as an introductory course into the forensic psychological interview process and the application of the techniques to victims of crimes for students, police officers, detectives and attorneys. This course is also designed to assist forensic science students, crime scene investigators, new trainees, social workers, psychologists and practitioners seeking to improve professional skills during interview process.

Day 1:

Introduction to the victimology and bases of forensic interview

- a. 6 Hour lecture on introductory topics, to include history, the fundamental principles of victimology, interview, and it's different forensic techniques.
- b. Practical exercises where students will have to identify the principles and bases of victimology

Day 2:

Psychological Interviews: Structured and unstructured models

- a. 4 hour lecture on the components of the intake interview or first interview, the basic models and protocols, structured and unstructured models of psychological interview and the forensic interview protocol for kids.
- b. 4 hour Live Practical exercises on interview, with real study cases.

Day 3:

Forensic interview according to their application scenarios

- c. 6 hour lecture on Forensic interview and hypothesis formulation, general considerations with children interviews, revision of another supplies used in the interview with sexual crime victims, and forensic interviewing protocols for children.
- d. 2 Hour practical exercise.

Day 4 and 5

Detailed revision of the Forensic Interview Protocol, StepWise Interview Protocol, International Evidence-Based Investigative Interviewing of Children (NICHHD Protocol), Cornerhouse Forensic Interview protocol (RATAC), Cognitive Forensic Interviews for adults.

- Course available in English and Spanish