School Discount - Book Order Form

Honey bees are important! Bees are one of the most efficient pollinators on our planet. That is why it is so important to remember their role in helping maintain the growth and healthiness of our fruits, vegetables, and all the various flowers, planets and trees around the globe. Please help children's book Author, Donalyn Kent make a difference in the awareness of why we (humans) need these fascinating creatures and lots of them! Her story Painting for Honey Bees visually nurtures that honey bee awareness to all its readers (young and old).

Based on a true story and inspired by a beloved beekeeper, this picture book blossoms with its educational twist on the importance of these busy little pollinators. Throughout this charming story, young artists are colorfully engaged with honey bee knowledge. It's a delightful tale as a read-aloud or for students continuing to increase their reading levels (ages 6-12). This attractive book features additional perks like honey bee fun facts, ten ways to help protect honey bees, a worker bee diagram, and has a thirty-word glossary.
