Sober Summer

by David Garcia, Youth Services Director

If I could only give 4 words of advice to someone fresh in sobriety, I would tell them to “have fun with it” because living a life of sobriety filled with joy, hobbies, and excitement is all I ever wanted when I was in active addiction.

Many people that have maintained long term sobriety change the people, places, and things in their life. After I started maintaining years of sobriety, I noticed my desire to have fun has never changed.

My teenage years consisted of drugs, alcohol, sports, and being a member of different punk rock bands. It was extremely difficult to stay sober during winter and summer vacation when I was in high school. When I was a college student my life started to become unmanageable, but my out-of-control lifestyle led me to the 12-step sober community.

The sober community I became a part of in Houston and San Antonio always had different, fun sober activities to look forward to every weekend. That sober network taught me that you can be sober and still play basketball, still go to the beach, and still play punk rock music. Being sober is a lot of fun for me because now I get to plan sober activities for teenagers and young adults who might not know that fun in sobriety is possible here in the New Braunfels area. I believe having fun is the most important part of maintaining and loving sobriety.

RecoveryWerks! offers many summer activities for young people who want to have fun while maintaining sobriety; in fact, we encourage attending these social activities as part of working a program.
