Living Your Design

with Karrie Wallen

Human Design is a synthesis of several ancient systems (astrology, I Ching, Hindu Chakra system, the Kabbalah) with more modern sciences (quantum mechanics, genetics, astronomy and biochemistry). For those desiring to know who they are or to improve relationships with those close to them or in their workplace, Human Design is the most impactful and accurate system I have worked with to date. Its impact – like its depth – depends only on your own willingness to experiment and work with it. Through Human Design, you can find out who you are, who you aren't, how you impact others, how best to interact with others, and how to make decisions most appropriate for your unique design. Human Design is more than a tool – it can change your life. For more information on Human Design or to determine your unique bodygraph, please go to www.jovianarchive.com.

Living Your Design is an 8-session, getting-to-know-your-design opportunity. Over the 8 sessions, you will gain a foundational knowledge of your design as well as how to align with your own uniqueness. Becoming familiar with your design - learning what's yours, what isn't, how it operates, and how you're designed to make decisions - brings incredible relief to your mind as you sink more and more into you. Living Your Design is an opportunity to continue the process of freeing yourself from expectations you aren't designed to fulfill, stepping more into the perfection of who you are designed to be as well as improving your relationships. Learning to live your design is an everyday experiment with yourself... and Living Your Design is a great way to get started!

My Experience with Human Design...

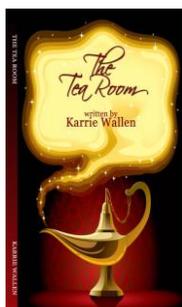

I was first introduced to Human Design in 2009 when I had a chart reading. After one reading, I was hooked and began pursuing myself via Human Design. I spent a lot of time on www.jovianarchive.com – the home of Human Design - where a plethora of information is available. However, it wasn't until the last couple of years that I began taking classes in Human Design, earning my certification as a Living Your Design Guide through the International Human Design School (IDHS).

I've found that Human Design isn't "book learning," it's experiential - an everyday experiment with myself. Through opportunities, interactions with others, experimentation, and classes such as Living Your Design, I have gained a foundational – and expanding - understanding of my design, how to live it, why I react the way I do, why others react the way they do, and how to make decisions appropriate for my design.

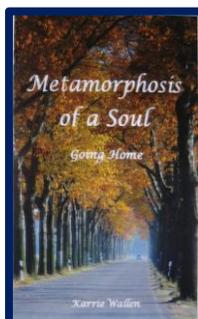

I love Human Design. The difference it has made in my life - the relief it has brought - is beyond measure. It has helped me to understand, accept and love who I am. It has greatly assisted me in relationship and more and more - thanks to Human Design - I am living at peace with myself and really beginning to appreciate what I have to offer. I'm much less likely to be held hostage by societal expectations that I don't fit within nor am I attempting to hold others to expectations they don't fit within – which is key in improving interactions and relationships! Human Design has truly changed my life and I look forward to the experiences yet to come.

Beyond Human Design... Karrie Wallen Books

For as long as I can remember, I have been on the journey of self-discovery. One of the fruits of this process has been the expression of the writer within me. I have authored 3 books - Out of the Darkness, Metamorphosis of a Soul, and the Tea Room. Each is based on my own journey with the first two coming almost directly from my journaling. The Tea Room – which I love - was channeled through my soul's voice in story format.

The Tea Room will engage you, inspire you, and surprise you. It's a place you may never want to leave...

Metamorphosis of a Soul is a story of the journey beneath the surface, beyond choice, when the soul takes charge...

Out of the Darkness is the journaling of an intended project turned incredible journey...

All 3 books are available at most online bookstores.
