Vision

DECEMBER 2015

Zonta International envisions a world in which women's rights are recognized as human rights and every woman is able to achieve her full potential.

In such a world, women have access to all resources and are represented in decision making positions on an equal basis with men.

In such a world, no woman lives in fear of violence.

Our Ukrainian Partners

On October 14th members of the Ukrainian Open World delegation attended the Roseburg Zonta Business Meeting luncheon. Several members of the Ukraine delegation worked for the university system and were in the process of earning their PhD in fields ranging from scientific research and botany to law. It was the 110th trip for their Ukraine interpreter that helped translate the conversation. The delegation felt the landscape in Uzzhorod, Ukraine is similar to Roseburg. However, the Kremenchuk area is more like Kansas. Ukraine is 50:50 rural and urban with the western portion of the country being more rural. When asked how they liked their tour thus far, one delegate mentioned that she was originally fearful due to her lack of English skills. However, the translations and communication have been good and she now had a better appreciation and understanding of the local people. Other members echoed that they enjoyed the people and the hospitality was even warmer and more open than they expected. Roseburg Zontians Roxanne Kelly and Jason Aase noted that they were equally impressed with the hospitality of the Ukrainians and especially enjoyed the potato pancakes and mushroom sauce during their 2014 Open World tour.

The Ukrainians noted the success of the Open World tours in stimulating new ideas and approaches to a variety of issues. One member noted her college dean had come to Roseburg in 2012 and that Ukraine students since then had benefited from changes she implemented upon her return. This year's Open World tour included Umpqua Community College, the University of Oregon, a trip to the coast, lunch with Governmental leaders hosted by the Cow Creek Band of Umpqua Tribe of Indians, and a stop in Washington DC to meet with Peter DeFazio and Jeff Merkley. The Ukraine group proudly reported that there was now four Zonta Chapters in Ukraine.

FOCUS ON NEW ZONTA MEMBERS!

Shonene Garrison is an Oregon native who briefly left the state to attend college in Missouri, but returned to complete her Bachelors then Masters at Portland State University. She started her career in the Portland area teaching elementary and middle school. Upon completing her Masters in counseling, she shifted gears and was a school counselor for 27 years, mostly at Aloha High School.

In 1989 Shon married James, who was a psychotherapist in private practice in the Portland area. James was also an accomplished martial artist who spent two tours in Viet Nam working with an admiral and training with a variety of specialists. James also operated the Pacific Rim Martial Arts Academy in Beaverton in addition to his therapist work. After marriage, James and Shon operated the academy together and traveled extensively in Asia. Shon earned five Black Belts ranks: 6th degree in Aikido, 5th degree in Hapkido, 5th degree in Taekwondo, 3rd degree in Jujitsu and 1st degree in Judo. Shon competed in both Taekwondo and Judo, but teaching was her forte.

The couple moved to Roseburg in 2014 after selling their house and transferring the academy to over to one of the senior black belts. The couple is now immersed in training Labrador Retrieves for field trial competition. Shon also helps judge various field trials. There's a debate between Shon and her sister, Zonta Governor Genelle Hanken, as to whether the field trials are a hobby or an addiction. Shon transferred her Zonta membership from Portland to Roseburg in October. Shon has been a Zontian for 8 years. She was a charter member of the Zonta Club of Tualatin Valley, then joined the Portland club. In Portland she held a variety of offices including board member, secretary, vice president and president. Shon joined the publicity committee in Roseburg where she now heads up our Facebook Page. Welcome Shon!

ZONTA INTERNATIONAL NEW PROGRAM!

Zonta Quiz: More than Just Cookies!

How much do you know about new Zonta international programs? Read on and learn more!

- 1. Voices against Violence is a project with WAGGGS to end violence against women and girls. What does WAGGGS stand for?
- 2. What are the objectives of this campaign?
- 3. How many boys and girls, aged 5 25 is this global advocacy campaign estimated to reach?

The United Nations Women and World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGGS) have joined forces to produce a new curriculum in English, French and Spanish for ages 5 – 25 to increase awareness about the root causes violence against women and girls and support services available to victims. Over 1,500 girl guides/scouts members in 20 countries have tested the curriculum. The curriculum will start rolling out in about 12 countries through the worldwide girl guide/scouting program and their partners. By June 2016, the program should involve an estimated 800,000 young people and by 2020, it is hoped that over five million children will take part in the program.

The program includes earning an age appropriate badge as guides and scouts learn about violence against girls and women. Participants tested in the pilot program had a measurable increased in knowledge of gender issues. Participants also took steps to engage parents, community members and decision makers to raise awareness in schools. Once published, the curriculum has the potential to be adapted to local/national contexts and implemented in schools or used by other youth organizations. Right now the UN Women/WAGGGS is gearing up to host 4 regional workshops. Each workshop would train at least 100 youth leaders, who in turn would train 3,000 active leaders in their home countries to help deliver the curriculum. By engaging our youth, it is hoped that gender discrimination, stereotyping and violence can be reduced by advocacy and peer awareness.

HARVEST LUNCHEON REPORT

The annual Harvest Luncheon was held October 28th at Brix with nearly 30 people in attendance. Roseburg President Roxanne Kelly provided a heartfelt welcome that also touched on Roseburg's recovery from the October 1 tragedy at Umpqua Community College. Zonta Governor Genelle Hanken provided an overview of the District Conference which was held earlier in October. The Roseburg Area Zonta Club also received a new member, Shon Garrison, who transferred from the Portland club.

The feature speaker was Cindy Burrell, author of "Why Is He So Mean to Me?" The book and her presentation described her 20-year experience living with a verbal and emotional abuser. She escaped the abusive relationship and is now the owner of www.hurtbylove.com, a web-based, non-profit organization which offers support, informative articles and validation to abuse victims in over 40 countries. Cindy explained the confusion, fear, and isolation of an abusive relationship. She also noted that not all abuse includes physical attacks. Said Cindy, "just because he's not hitting you doesn't mean it's not abuse. Not all abuse is physical but all abuse is emotional."

Cindy described the abuse dynamic that keeps the victim living in fear and struggling to obtain the abuser's version of perfection to prevent yet another tirade and angry outburst. The abuse is systematic and predictable as is the victim's often enabling response. Cindy's goal is to help victims to recognize the pattern so they can find help and break out of the abusive cycle. Friends and family also need to be aware of the pattern and offer support to the victim.

Useful educational articles include such titles as:

- Why an abuse victim doesn't leave (in six words)
- Ten lies enablers tell themselves
- If only he would hit me
- Isolation: another weapon in the abuser's arsenal
- Leaving an abuser. What to expect and how to stay grounded

Cindy has recently moved to Grants Pass Oregon from California. Knowing that Zonta's mission is to help empower women, she may join Zonta in the future. Thanks to the Harvest Lunch Committee for organizing the luncheon.
