DESCRIPTION: The Chaparral was Wing's high-end all-purpose bow. Beautiful highly sought after recurve. Excellent condition. Riser is made of bowflex (phenolic) and Bubinga. Two original factory installed bushings. No delamination; no cracks; limbs are straight. Overlay tips are in great condition. Two small filled sight holes on the side of the riser (see pic p. 4). No stress lines or crazing. A few minor scratches here and there. This is a really nice bow in great condition for its age. This bow cost $90 back in 1970, which in today's inflation-adjusted dollars would be equal to $585.00.
