
INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

N. Karl Haden, PhD

President, Academy for Advancing Leadership
Atlanta, GA

Dr. Haden is President and CEO of the Academy for Advancing Leadership (AAL). Since AAL's founding in 2005, Dr. Haden and AAL have worked with more than 150 U.S. and international higher education institutions, associations, and businesses through professional development programs and consulting services. Dr. Haden oversees ongoing leadership development initiatives in collaboration with numerous associations in the health professions as well as university partners. In 2017, he led AAL's efforts to launch leadership development on behalf of the Interprofessional Education Collaborative.

His areas of expertise include leadership, organizational change, team building, and strategic planning. Dr. Haden has authored more than 80 articles and monographs and is the co-author, with Rob Jenkins, of The 9 Virtues of Exceptional Leaders (Deeds, 2015).

Dr. Haden is a Fellow of the Center for the Study of Great Ideas, an Honorary Fellow of the American College of Dentists, and the 2017 recipient of the ADEAGies Foundation Award for Achievement-Public or Private Partner.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Sharon K. Hull, MD, MPH, ACC

Professor of Community and Family Medicine, Duke University School of Medicine

Chief Executive Officer and Professional Executive Coach, Metta Solutions

Durham, NC

Dr. Sharon Hull is an Executive Coach who specializes in working with high-performing professionals in leadership roles. An invited member of the Forbes Coaches Council, she brings over 30 years' experience in academic health centers and primary care medicine to the coaching relationship with her clients. She has been working as an executive coach and as an organizational consultant since 2011.

In February 2016, Dr. Hull began the role of Director of Executive Coaching for Duke University School of Medicine, with the primary goal of creating an in-house Executive Coaching Program for faculty within the medical school at Duke. She also oversees curriculum and provides executive coaching services for the Duke Health Clinical Leadership Program.

Dr. Hull is a graduate of Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. She completed her Family Medicine Residency at Union Hospital in Terre Haute, Indiana and from there started and ran a solo, rural private practice in southern Illinois. She joined the faculty at Southern Illinois University School of Medicine with administrative, research, teaching and clinical practice roles. In 2007, she was recruited to Northeast Ohio Medical University in Rootstown, Ohio, where she held multiple roles, including Chair of the Department of Behavioral and Community Health Sciences department and Medical Director of the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Collaborative.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Rory Hume, DDS, PhD

Senior Consultant, AAL

Dean of School of Dentistry and Associate Vice President of Academic Affairs and Education at Health Sciences Center, University of Utah

Salt Lake City, UT

Dr. Hume is a Senior Consultant for AAL and works extensively in the areas of educational research development, professional development for administration and staff, and change management training. His experience includes career coaching in higher education, team development and leadership, and coaching for high-potential executives. Dr. Hume also serves as Dean of the University of Utah School of Dentistry and as Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Education of the University's Health Sciences Center.

Formerly, Dr. Hume served as the Executive Vice President and Provost of the University of California (UC) system of 10 campuses (Berkeley, UCLA, UCSF, UCSD, UCD, UCI, UCSB, UCR, UCSC, UCM) and three national laboratories. He served concurrently as the UC system's Vice President for Health Affairs. He had previously served as Executive Vice Chancellor of UCLA and as President of the University of New South Wales in Sydney, Australia.

Dr. Hume graduated from the University of Adelaide with bachelor's degrees in dentistry and dental surgery and a PhD in human physiology and pharmacology.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Laura Magaña, PhD

Member, IPEC

President and Chief Executive Officer, Association of Schools and Programs of Public Health

Washington, DC

The Association of Schools and Programs of Public Health (ASPPH) welcomed Dr. Laura Magaña Valladares as the new President and Chief Executive Officer in August 2017.

Prior to joining ASPPH, Dr. Magaña was most recently the academic dean of the ASPPH-member National Institute of Public Health (INSP) in Mexico. Her diverse portfolio features research, training, and technological developments in national and foreign Universities, much of which relate to learning environments and the use of technology in education.

Dr. Magaña is an active member of professional and scientific educational committees around the globe for her recognized expertise in education, including the Public Health Institutes of the World, World Federation of Public Health Associations, Association of Schools of Public Health in Europe, Latin-American Global Health Association, National System of Researchers, and the National Academy of Medical Education in México. Dr. Magaña also has served as the ASPPH representative to the Global Forum on Innovation in Health Professional Education of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine and she participates in editorial boards, including Public Health Reviews, ASPHER in Europe, the Chilean Journal of Public Health and the Journal in Eastern Europe.

Dr. Magaña holds a Bachelor of Arts in Special Education, Master of Science in Educational Technology, and a PhD in Educational Administration.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Lucinda L. Maine, PhD, RPh

President, IPEC

Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer, American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy

Arlington, VA

Lucinda L. Maine serves as executive vice president and CEO of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACP). As the leading advocate for high quality pharmacy education, AACP works to develop strong academic scholars and leaders, to support excellent professional doctoral and postgraduate degree programs and build relations with key constituency groups both inside and external to the profession of pharmacy.

Prior to assuming her current role in July 2002, Dr. Maine served as senior vice president for policy, planning and communications with the American Pharmacists Association (APhA). Analyzing trends in healthcare, assessing the implications for pharmacy practice and advocating appropriate recognition for all pharmacists were her top priorities at APhA.

Dr. Maine is a pharmacy graduate of Auburn University and received her doctorate at the University of Minnesota. She served on the faculty at the University of Minnesota where she practiced in the field of geriatrics and was an associate dean at the Samford University School of Pharmacy. Her past research includes projects on aging, pharmacy manpower and pharmacy-based immunizations.

Dr. Maine has been active in leadership roles in and out of the profession. Prior to joining the APhA staff she served as speaker of the APhA House of Delegates and as an APhA trustee. She currently serves as the President of the Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC), treasurer and a member of the Executive Committee for Research!America, and is an Executive Committee member of the American Foundation for Pharmaceutical Education.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Stephen C. Shannon, DO, MPH

Board Chair, IPEC

President and Chief Executive Officer, American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine

Bethesda, MD

Stephen C. Shannon, DO, MPH, has been President of the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine (AACOM) since January 2006. Prior to assuming this position, he served as Vice President for Health Services and Dean of the College of Osteopathic Medicine at the University of New England since 1995. He served as Chair of the AACOM Board of Deans from July 2003 to June 2005. Currently, Dr. Shannon also serves at the Board Chair of the Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC).

Dr. Shannon earned his doctor of osteopathic medicine degree in 1986 from the University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine (UNECOM) in Biddeford, Maine, and his master of public health degree in 1990 from the Harvard University School of Public Health. He is board certified in preventive medicine and osteopathic family practice.

He also has a long history of leadership in public health. Dr. Shannon was instrumental in the development of a Master of Public Health program within the University, has served on numerous public health boards and commissions, and is a founder and past chair of the Board of the Maine Center for Public Health.

Dr. Shannon has strong professional interests in public health and preventive medicine, the health professions workforce, rural health, and medical education.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

John H. Tegzes, MA, VMD, DABVT

Director of Interprofessional Education and Professor of Toxicology, Western University of Health Sciences (WesternU)

Pomona, CA

Interprofessional education (IPE) and practice is a major part of Dr. John Tegzes' identity as a healthcare provider and educator. As an active member of two health professions (Nursing and Veterinary Medicine) he understands innately what it means to be interprofessional, and how to communicate this in meaningful ways to health profession academics, students, and clinicians.

His educational experience includes a BSN in Nursing, an MA in Applied Psychology, and a VMD in Veterinary Medicine. He further specialized in Clinical Toxicology and has worked interprofessionally as both a nurse and a veterinarian alongside physicians, nurses, and pharmacists at poison centers and diagnostic labs in Oregon and California.

His academic career has included serving as a founding faculty member of the College of Veterinary Medicine (CVM) at WesternU, where he was instrumental in the development of the Problem-Based Learning curriculum that is implemented there. His knowledge of small group teaching and learning, and his passion for interprofessional collaborative care led to his engagement in Western U's IPE program. He has served on the IPE Design & Implementation Committees since their inception in 2007. He developed and implemented the IPE faculty small group facilitation skills development workshops for the past five years, and has trained well over 400 faculty from WesternU and two partner institutions. For the past two years he has worked intensively on IPE assessment including both student assessment and program outcomes assessment. In July 2012 he assumed the position of Director of IPE for WesternU.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

Deborah E. Trautman, PhD, RN, FAAN

Treasurer/Secretary, IPEC

President and Chief Executive Officer, American Association of Colleges of Nursing

Washington, DC

Dr. Deborah Trautman assumed the role of President and Chief Executive Officer of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) in June 2014. Formerly the Executive Director of the Center for Health Policy and Healthcare Transformation at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Dr. Trautman has held clinical and administrative leadership positions at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center and the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions. She also served as the Vice President of Patient Care Services for Howard County General Hospital and as Director of Nursing for Emergency Medicine at the Johns Hopkins Hospital and held a joint appointment at the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing.

Dr. Trautman received a BSN from West Virginia Wesleyan College, an MSN from the University of Pittsburgh, and a PhD in health policy from the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

Since her appointment at AACN, Deb has been asked to join a number of high profile boards and advisory groups. The Secretary of U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' Special Medical Advisory Group (SMAG), which advises the VA Secretary on matters related to healthcare delivery, research, education, training of healthcare staff and planning on shared care issues facing VA and the Department of Defense. In addition, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF) named her program director of the New Careers in Nursing project, and her colleagues with the Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC) elected her to serve as the group's Treasurer/Secretary since 2015. Dr. Trautman also serves on the National Academies of Science, Global Forum, Envisioning the Future of Health Professional Education.

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY 6-8, 2019 | WASHINGTON, DC

ALISON J. WHELAN, MD

Vice-Board Chair, IPEC

Chief Medical Education Officer, Association of American Medical Colleges

Washington, DC

Alison J. Whelan joins the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) as its Chief Medical Education Officer. Dr. Whelan is also the current Vice-Board Chair for the Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC). Previously, Dr. Whelan served as the Senior Associate Dean for Education and Professor of Medicine and Pediatrics at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis.

As Chief Medical Education Officer, Dr. Whelan leads initiatives to transform the current models of education and workforce preparation across the full continuum of medical education. She also directs AAMC efforts that support medical education officers, regional campuses, education researchers, students, and residents.

A member of the National Board of Medical Examiners (NBME) governing board, Dr. Whelan has received four Washington University School of Medicine Distinguished Service Teaching Awards, the Emerson Electric Excellence in Teaching Award, and the Samuel R. Goldstein Leadership Award in Medical Student Education.

Dr. Whelan received her bachelor's degree from Carleton College in 1981. She earned her medical degree from Washington University in 1986 and completed her postgraduate work and residency at the former Barnes Hospital, now Barnes-Jewish Hospital.