About Pamlico County

Pamlico County has a total area of 566 square miles of land, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. From that total, 229 square miles consists of water. This makes Pamlico County a great place for kayaking, canoeing, sailing, fishing, skiing, and enjoying all kinds of water recreation and sports. Our county hosts many commercial fishermen who harvest fresh seafood such as oysters, shrimp, crabs, and a wide variety of fish and contribute greatly to the vitality of our economy. Area restaurants are well known for this fabulous seafood which can also be purchased at the local fish markets. Many fishing tournaments and sailing competitions are held in Pamlico County. There is an abundance of waterfowl, beautiful land birds, deer, fox, bear, and many other animals for the nature lover in you. The 337 square miles of our land also gives opportunity to enjoy golfing, walking and bicycling trails, camping, and horseback riding.

Included in our cultural interests are two historical museums, The Oriental History Museum and the Pamlico County Heritage and Visitor’s Center. There are art galleries, a performing arts and civic theatre, numerous talented musicians and a wide variety of churches. Pamlico Community College offers special interest classes in such things as writing, boat building, basket weaving, carving, blacksmithing, home landscaping and Tai Chai. There are also many educational opportunities available for obtaining a certification or degree.

Our heritage includes at least five different Indian tribes who inhabited this area. They are the Neusick or Neuse River Indians; they evidently were the Iroquois who were affiliated with the Tuscaroreras. Living on the Bay River were the Bay (or Bear) River Indians. The Pamlico River Indians also lived around both the Bay and Pamlico Rivers (Sir Walter Raleigh’s expeditions visited these Indians). The Secontans also extended from the Pamlico River South to The Bay River. The arrival of the white man in the 1600’s brought smallpox which began the demise and exodus of the Indians. The new immigrants began a life of fishing, farming and forestry. This way of life continued through the years being passed down through generations. Many of these occupations still exist but have experienced major changes in the application of modern technology in the management of these industries. Technology enables these jobs to continue while allowing good stewardship of our environment. At the same time, our county has grown to include professionals in healthcare, marine services, the arts, guide services and more. We also have a variety of interesting shops which provide unique gifts, fascinating reading, and unusual jewelry as well as everyday items that are needed. We take pride in the fact that our businesses are set apart by their friendliness, customer service and attention to detail. We invite you today to work or play – visit or stay in Pamlico County!

AHoy There!
Join us for an Adventurous and fun summer!

Sea Gull and Seafarer’s unique North Carolina coastal location is perfect for our seamanship program and traditional camp activities. Campers make lifelong friendships, challenge themselves and succeed in the process.
Pamlico County is home to some of the best year round inshore fishing in the country! We are lucky enough to have the Pamlico Sound as our backyard which is the largest lagoon along the North American east coast. The Pamlico Sound consist of over 3000 square miles of brackish water. It is almost completely landlocked other than a few inlets along the Outer Banks. This makes our waters different than most due to the fact we do not have lunar tides, water depth changes are completely wind driven.

Also bordering Pamlico County’s shorelines is the Neuse River and its associated estuaries that feed directly into the Pamlico Sound. The Neuse River is the largest river system connected to the Sound and makes it a spawning area for numerous species of fish. In the early spring the American and Hickory Shad run up the Neuse River to spawn, they are soon followed by Striped Bass. The Striped Bass also go to spawn and feed on Shad. This usually starts around the end of February or first of March.

Spring time is usually when the inshore fishing really starts to kick off as well. With a wide range of different fish species to target, you are almost guaranteed to catch some fish. The Neuse River is full of Redfish, Speckled Trout, Flounder, Striped Bass, Crappie, Largemouth Bass and White Perch, just to name a few. You can catch any of these fish on a year round basis!

Trophy sized Red Drum and Tarpon come to the Neuse River to spawn during the summer months when water temps are warm and flourishing with bait! We have some of the largest consecutive Redfish caught anywhere. If you want to hook into the catch of a lifetime, the peak of the season is August to September and this would be the time to come! Contact one of our local guides to set up your next vacation.

Fish you are able to target/catch: Trophy Redfish, Tarpon, Redfish (puppy drum), Speckled Trout, Flounder, White Perch, Raccoon Perch, Stripped Bass, Crappie, American Shad, Hickory Shad, Sunfish, Bream, Largemouth Bass, and more!

Four Great Fishing Spots You’ll Want To Explore In Pamlico County

BAYBORO
Bayboro became the County Seat of Pamlico County in 1876. Named after the Bay River which, although narrow, is navigable all the way to the town. Bayboro was incorporated in 1881, but was settled long before that. The oldest incorporated town in the county, it was the first town to have municipal water. Bayboro has a Town Council-Mayor and five commissioners with staggered terms of office.

GOOSE CREEK ISLAND
Goose Creek Island is connected to the mainland by a concrete high-rise bridge which spans the Intracoastal Waterway. Composed of two towns, Hobucken and Lowland, Goose Creek Island is home to over 300 residents. The main occupation in this area has been fishing, crabbing and trapping, hunting and agriculture. There are 5 churches throughout the island. The Goose Creek Island Community Center is located in Hobucken and is the sight of an annual play which has been presented for 37 years. It is not unusual to see blue herons, ducks, geese, and other waterfowl and birds in this natural environment. Goose Creek Island is well known for its recreational fishing, due to the many varieties of fish in the nearby waters and hunting. There is also a birding trail in this area.

ORIENTAL
The fishing village of Oriental is nestled amid five creeks along the Neuse River and connected to the Intracoastal Waterway via a 10-foot deep channel. Halfway between New York and Florida, Oriental has become a favorite stopping place for north and south bound cruisers as they travel the ICW. Once called Smiths Creek and settled in 1870, residents wanted to establish a post office when they found the town first needed an official name. One resident recalled seeing the nameplate from the steamship “Oriental” at a friend’s house in Manteo; the steamer had wrecked off the coast of Cape Hatteras in 1862 while under the commission of the Union army. The Town of Oriental was officially incorporated in 1899. Today, with more power and sailboats in residence than people, it has earned its reputation as being “The Sailing Capitol of North Carolina.” In addition to power and sail boats, those who prefer paddling either a kayak or canoe will find an excellent place to launch. Outfitters can be found near the town dock on Hodges Street. Still a quaint village, Oriental has attracted not only boaters, but artisans, writers, and philosophers. The varied interests and activities of Oriental residents provide a rich cultural environment for residents and visitors alike. Several shops and galleries displaying the work of Pamlico County artists and artisans are found in the village. Small boats may be launched at the wildlife ramp and a launching ramp for kayaks and canoes has been provided near the bridge. Estimated population is 900.

VANDEMERE
Vandemere or “Village by the Sea” is the original sight of an old Indian settlement called Sectoan. There have been many Indian artifacts found here which support the archaeological history. Fishing is a year-round. The speckled trout, redfish, flounder, stripers, croaker, spot and mullet are plentiful in the creeks, rivers and Pamlico Sound. If you have never experienced catching old drum or tarpon, it is an experience you will never forget! Vandemere has a population of around 250. There is also a Christian camp located on the waterfront where many retreats are held. You can find more information on boat ramps on page 20 under “Land Fishing.”

Commercial Fishermen: A Pamlico County Legacy and an Endangered Species

“For generations, the county’s residents have been fishermen, plying Pamlico Sound and even through the inlets of the Outer Banks into the Atlantic Ocean in search of nature’s aquatic bounty. Today’s visitor to the county sees everywhere evidence of the art and science of commercial fishing. Pamlico’s bays and creeks provide berths for numerous skiffs and assorted boats. Trawlers and other craft are held fast to the docks where workers process fish, shrimp, crabs, oysters, and other seafood for shipment inland. On wharves and in yards are piled nets, crab pots, and other maritime accoutrements such as poles, paddles, anchors, and buoys—all reflecting Pamlico’s close relationship to sound and ocean.”

The above paragraph is from Pamlico County - A Brief History by Joe A. Mobley © 1991 and can be found on www.ncgenweb.us/pamlico/history. This excerpt provides a brief description of the landscape of our history.

The Pamlico County Chamber of Commerce would like to pay a tribute to our Commercial Fishermen. They are a large part of the economic backbone that has supported and carried our county for generations. Commercial Fishermen’s contributions and sacrifices are often forgotten or unnoticed.

While Commercial Fishermen work hard to provide a living for their families. Their trade has been responsible for creating numerous outlying jobs that have kept many other families financially afloat. From fish houses to marine trade services and businesses such as hardware and marine suppliers, fuel, accountants, grocery stores, air and water travel, shipping/trucking, boat builders, restaurants, electricians, educators, and administrators, virtually every business in Pamlico County and the region benefits from commercial fishing dollars.

They are home owners who are vested in their communities and contribute to our County daily by volunteering with our local fire and rescue, schools and churches. They donate to local causes, take care of their neighbors and pay taxes in their community which aids local government in its duties. They are good citizens and neighbors.

For all of this they receive little thanks. They are gone for days, weeks and sometimes months at a time. Their job is one of the most dangerous in the United States. They have to be alert and watchful at all times because they are dealing with so many variables, some of which are very dangerous: winches, heavy nets, slick decks, storms, emergency repairs, lack of sleep and sometimes other crew member’s issues. They are often up for 16-24 hours at a time culling, cutting or packing. Fishermen, by necessity, have to be smart, critical thinkers, problem solvers and pay attention to detail. The shrimp, scallops, oysters, crabs and fish we love to eat can quickly become a deadly nightmare to a fisherman that isn’t paying attention to his trade or is caught off guard while on deck.

This beautiful heritage industry that has always supplied bountiful harvests and employment for Pamlico County is still alive. It is still a source of 383 direct jobs with a $17 million-dollar impact on our County, but sadly doesn’t possess the same vitality for the economy that it once did. Over the last 15 years, there has been a loss of over 1,200 jobs in the industry which has negatively affected small communities, businesses and local governments.

Through the years, the Commercial Fishing industry in Pamlico County and our region has waned. This is partly due to many U.S. restaurants and consumers buying less regulated and cheaper imported seafood. Many restaurants claim to serve local seafood, but in reality do not.

Numerous regulations and reduced numbers of commercial fishing licenses, issues which foreign competitors do not face, create added expense and a much smaller profit margin resulting in less opportunities for the next generation of fishermen and women. Other issues, such as unaddressed declining environmental water quality, and pressure by well-meaning, but often not fully informed, conservationists and legislative bodies are having a major impact.

We acknowledge and appreciate Pamlico County’s farmers and foresters, who have also been a mainstay for our County. But at this critical time, we want to give a major salute to those Commercial Fishermen and Women who daily work hard, provide a living for their loved ones, jobs for our County and food for our tables. Thank you, Pamlico County Commercial Fishermen, for your sacrifice and service.
So, we focused on fishing in this year’s Visitor’s Guide. But what if you do not want to fish? What if you are looking for something else to do? We have answers!

The Heritage Center Museum in Grantsboro, was started by a small group of people dedicated to preserving the history and elements of life in Eastern North Carolina and Pamlico County. While the group was small, their efforts were not. The Museum is well organized, full of interesting stories and objects, including a few surprises that we will let you discover on your own. The Heritage Museum has one of the best genealogy centers on the East Coast, thanks to the marvelous work of Barbara Kerr, a dedicated and brilliant volunteer. Once a month they have a special guest speaker who shares knowledge and stories regarding the area. The last Saturday in September is Heritage Day at the Center. People come from all over the State to participate and have fun seeing the demonstrations, listen to music, compete in the antique care and tractor show, eat amazing food, see a working blacksmith shop and experience an old fashioned one room schoolhouse.

The Oriental Museum pays its dues to the fishing village heritage of its name sake, the Town of Oriental. It is always full of amazing items and stories and they often feature a variety of presentations. If it’s an art museum you are looking for, try The Village Gallery located next to the Bean Coffee Shop in Oriental. In addition, go to the Town of Alliance and stop into Pigments of Imagination, both places are a cooperative of local artists. Looking for a little theater, the Old Theater in Oriental often hosts plays, movies, and music. Every summer they put on a Summer Theater Workshop for 2 weeks to provide theatre and drama camps for children K-12. If you are visiting them on a Thursday, pop over to Lou Mac Park to watch and play hand drums with the Oriental Drummin Dragons. You may also enjoy the Oriental Tour of Homes.

With over 266 miles of protected and navigable waters, we have plenty of kayaking, sailing, powerboating, jet skiing and just sit and stare at the water and do nothing time. In April of each year, enjoy the In Water Boat Show in Oriental. This is the largest in-water boat show on the east coast and has grown every year. The show raises money for scholarships to give to local students. You may also watch some of our much-loved heritage commercial fishing boats come and go - they bring us fresh seafood!

If you are a bird watcher, there are a couple of groups in the area and some fabulous avian finds. We have a horsemen’s club for our horse loving friends. If its golf you are looking for, Minnesott Golf and Country Club is a beautiful place and they will gladly let you stop in and play a round. If you are there, you might as well cross the mighty Neuse River by taking a ride across and back on the Minnesott/Cherry Branch Ferry. Or go to the new Vandemere Waterfront Park in Vandemere and have a picnic, launch your boat or kayak or host an event. The Joseph Himbry Park in Bayboro is beautiful, has a kayak dock and can be rented for events.

Pamlico Community College has a Bluegrass Festival every year. This year’s festival will be in May. In addition, on Thursday nights, they have Music in the Mall where local musicians just get together to jam. The area can brag about its numerous variety of bands and the Pamlico Choral.

Just over the Beaufort County line, you may visit Bennett Winery. It is still part of an original family land grant from the King of England in the early 1700’s and a favorite events destination. The wine is superb, and its antioxidant properties are the best in the world.

Other things to do include, shopping, charter tours, sailing lessons- all ages, cycling, mini golf, pickle ball at Camp Caroline, and visiting nearby New Bern’s historic district.

Come and enjoy yourself. “Work or Play-Visit or Stay” is our county motto and you are welcome to do it all.
Whether you are fishing or have something else in mind, Pamlico County is blessed with a variety of lovely places to stay and eat while you are visiting with us.

River Neuse Suites is in the Town of Oriental. These suites are beautifully renovated with beachy décor and has upstairs and downstairs lofts. View the mighty Neuse River from your room. The hotel is centrally located in the village. Also, in Oriental is The Oriental Marina and Inn. This hotel has its own restaurant, Tiki Bar, pool and docks. If you are looking for a Bed and Breakfast, The Cartwright House and the Inn at Oriental are delightful places located in the middle of Oriental.

If you prefer a house or a room, there are many to choose from at very competitive prices throughout the County. SailLoft Realty, River Dunes, Tidewater Realty, Arlington Place, Mariner Realty, and Beth Frazer Realty can all boast of some beautiful and reasonable short-term accommodations whether you are looking for a place for the night or for a month. Several residents have homes and rooms listed on AirBnB. Many of these are waterfront view or in close proximity to water access.

While visiting, you may be looking for a restaurant. We have an interesting variety and a lot of seafood focus, but can accommodate the landlubber tastes, too. In the Town of Arapahoe, you will find Gary’s Down East Seafood and Oyster Bar. This restaurant has been around for a long while and is well known throughout the region. In Bayboro you will find Charlie’s’ Restaurant. Charlie’s is the local hangout, a Chamber Taster’s Choice Award winner and features classic North Carolina fare and local seafood. If you are looking for a restaurant that is retro and serves high quality seafood and other specialties with a smile, Mayo’s is also in Bayboro and another local and visitor favorite. Little Italy Restaurant in Alliance is as authentic as it gets. Yes, the owner Alfredo Mollano, has the accent to back up his Italian fare and pedigree and we guarantee that you will not go away hungry.

If you are in Oriental, you can find some fine home cooking at Brantley’s Village Restaurant- a long time family run, classic where you can tune into the pulse of what’s happening locally; M&M’s is well known among visitor’s and locals alike and serves a variety of salads, and high quality specials. They also have a bar. Oriental Deli- yes, it is the good stuff and made with real ingredients, Layla’s Mediterranean Grill- we hear it is divine and the lamb-mmm... The Oriental Marina and Inn can boast about its restaurant, The Toucan Grill, bar and dedicated fans who love the place and the live music. The Silos is an experience you won’t want to miss. Not only do they have great food, but your dining experience will be in a real silo! O’Town restaurant is classy and has a gorgeous view of the water.

If you are a fast foodie you will find a McDonalds and Bojangles in the Grantsboro area and a Hardee’s just a few miles down the road in Alliance. Aggie’s Subs is also located in Alliance. Almost everyone loves their cheesesteak sub with its special sauce. In Grantsboro’s Piggly Wiggly grocery store is the Pamlico Restaurant. Here, you may pick from a variety of cooked foods from the food bar in their deli section. They also cater and are well loved for their fried chicken and pork BBQ and sides at reasonable prices and for grocery delivery.
“It is an honor for Pamlico Community College to be recognized as the third best community college in America as we serve the businesses and citizens of Pamlico County.”

KneEDeeP Custom Charters was founded in 2007 after my retirement from Cherry Point MCAS. I fished these waters for 35 years and enjoyed the variety of angling opportunities and wanted to share my experiences with others.

We have a 12 month a year inshore fishery here consisting of speckled trout, red and black drum, flounder, and rock (striper). During the winter, we also have the shad run that provides loads of excitement.

We also are a huge crabbing area where u can get out with a chicken neck and dip net and catch some beautiful blue crabs.

Our biggest targeted season is August – September when the Big Old Drum come into the sound and river to spawn. This provides the opportunity to catch 40 inch plus exceptional fish on light tackle. Phenomenal action.

Our near shore Atlantic fishing provides good cobia action in the spring along with some great winter flounder fishing.

I offer 4, 6 and 8 hour trips our of the Oriental area for parties of 3 or less and also arrange multi-boat and group trips. I and US Coast Guide licensed and fully insured. Coastal fishing license is included but inland is required at times during the year. All gear and tackle provide. You only need the will to come fish and be ready to have fun. Love teach anglers the fun of fishing and experience the nature we have around us – kids my specialty.
