After the auctioneer says sold on any one of the seller's lots of fur, seller will have 5 seconds to let the auctioneer know that he doesn't want to sell that lot for that price. Seller is strongly encouraged, but not required, to come to the auction block while their furs are being sold. Seller agrees that when he is handed his "NO SALE" fur, he will sign his "NO SALE" receipt showing that he has received his fur and that NMTA is no longer responsible for that fur
