CIVIL WAR TRUST Update

ANNUAL CONFERENCE — JUNE 7-11, 2017!

In north Georgia and south Tennessee, Union and Confederate armies clashed during the fall of 1863 in some of the hardest fighting of the Civil War. The prize was Chattanooga, a key rail center and the gateway to the heart of the Confederacy. This summer, you can join Civil War Trust members with some of our nation's elite historians as we delve into the battles that one Confederate soldier ominously called, "the death-knell of the Confederacy."

At our 2017 Annual Conference, you can explore the battlefield as never before. Our lineup of expert tour guides and speakers includes Keith Bohannon, Michael R. Bradley, Peter Cozzens, Parker Hills, James Ogden III, and the Trust's own Garry Adelman. Our tours will give a detailed look at the Battles for Chattanooga and the Battle of Chickamauga, and cover themes such as William Tecumseh Sherman versus Joseph Eggleston Johnston in North Georgia, and how George Thomas earned his enduring nickname. The complete list of tours can be found here.

The conference will take place June 7-11. Space is limited! Register now to reserve your spot at the conference and to sign up for your tour preferences. See you in Chattanooga!

Special Events at Lee's Headquarters!

We have events planned throughout the year where you can visit the newly restored Lee's Headquarters at Gettysburg. Save the date for an open house in 2017.

Learn More

Why Do You Support the Civil War Trust?

Tell us about why you are passionate about Civil War history and battlefield preservation. Please share your story on our website.

Share Your Story

Shiloh Animated Map

April 6-7 marks the 155th anniversary of the Battle of Shiloh. To commemorate the event, you can view the entire engagement from start to finish, from sunrise on April 6, 1862, to Grant's Counterattack. Watch »

Park Day Photo Contest

If you attended a Park Day Event last weekend, please enter your favorite photo from the day for a chance to win! Enter »