

To whom it may concern:

As a fellow student at the College at Brockport, State University of New York, I have had the pleasure of knowing Paul Giglio for the last four years. He has been a tremendous student and an asset to our school. I would like to take this opportunity to state my support for Paul.

I first met Paul as an incoming freshman DELTA College student. I was happy to know that Paul would be my Peer Mentor for the first year of my college experience. Immediately I was impressed with his passion and knowledge of the college. I felt as a freshman I was in great hands and knew if I had any questions I would be able to come to him. Paul was encouraging, compassionate, and enthusiastic.

Throughout my experiences with Paul many things ring evident about his character. He is a consummate professional; often times excelling in meetings, classes, and extracurricular activities. Paul is a good listener who also can convey information clearly and effectively to individuals and groups. Paul's diligence, bright mind, inquisitive nature and unwavering commitment to helping others enabled him to become a remarkable role model on this campus, creating a legacy that has outlasted his time here.

He has not only worked with members of the community, he has also helped to implement plans and programs that will enrich the lives of those around him, including my own. Paul's leadership and organizational skills have been invaluable to these programs, most of which have been started from the ground up.

I can say, with the utmost honesty, that Paul Giglio has tremendously helped in what I have been able to achieve myself here at the College at Brockport, SUNY. I feel comfortable saying if it weren't for his leadership, advice, and friendship I would not have found opportunities, confidence, or hope where I was able to. In my opinion, Paul's unwavering devotion to his college exemplifies strong moral fiber and character. He is a trustworthy individual and would be an excellent candidate.

As you can tell, I hold Paul in very high regard and therefore can confidently recommend him. Please feel free to contact me at tbrow1@brockport.edu or (607) 591-6761 if you would like any additional information or perspective regarding this outstanding young man.

Sincerely,
