Biography

Ann Y. Hosack, age 79, of Bad Axe, passed away Friday, April 15, 2016, following a short battle with cancer. Ann was born April 10, 1937, daughter of the late Frederick and Frances (Barr) Hosack. Ann lived at the Osantoski Adult Foster Care Home in Bad Axe since 1980. She always referred to Lauren as "my ma". She loved life and had many friends. She thought a lot of her sisters who would pick her up in the summer and go on vacation with her. You could always hear her talking about her sisters. She loved going on outings with the peers from the home. She especially loved going to Tiger baseball games. One of her favorites, Brandon Osantoski surprised her one day with a Tiger stuffed animal that was almost as tall as her. She cherished the Tiger. She had many nicknames due to her being so short. Her hobbies included Special Olympics, bowling, bocce ball, puzzles, crossword books, and coloring. She worked at Burger King for 14 years. She attended the Nazarene Church in Bad Axe.
