

THE ONLY WAY

By John Lipinski

When you're lonely, and feelin' blue
Well don't sit there crying, with nothing to do
You knew it was over, a long time ago
So stop all your sighin', just let her go
Remember my warning, it's easy to know
Cuz, you're not the only one, that's done this before

The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love
The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love

Well, I think you'll see, if you listen to me
It's better than cryin', or being lonely
Find another lady, And hold her so tight
Let her keep you happy, deep in the night
That's the end of my warning, and I won't say no more
But, you're not the only one, who's done it before

The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love
The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love
The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love
The only way, to get over love, is find yourself, a new love
