

ELLISE DOVE

Ellise is the daughter of Rebecca Dove. She is an incoming Senior at L'Anse High School. After she graduates in the Spring of 2026, she plans to attend University and study psychology and criminology, with the goal of becoming a Criminal Psychologist. She is a huge advocate for Mental Health Awareness and am passionate about this field of study due to her own journey with mental health issues. Navigating personal issues has shown her the importance of understanding mental processes and she feels she can better understand and help people who have had similar struggles to myself. She has 6 siblings, two older sisters, one younger sister and three little brothers, she is also an aunt.

In her downtime you can find her reading, writing, painting, or spending time with my friends. She attends North Iron Church in L'Anse where she often helps in infant and toddler classrooms. She does a lot of volunteering with her Papa delivering meals at Thanksgiving to people homebound. She has also hung purple ribbons around L'Anse for Domestic Violence awareness with her mom and is a volunteer cheer coach for the local L'Anse Champion Cheer Force team.
