International College of Angiology

Founding Fathers and Past Congresses

The founding fathers of the International College of Angiology were Dr. Saul Simon Samuels and Dr. Rene LeRiche. It was Dr. Saul Samuels who in 1942 coined the name “Angiology” from the Greek words meaning the “science of the blood vessels.”

The International College of Angiology was organized and chartered in 1958, in order to encourage, support, and facilitate research and education in vascular diseases. It was the founding fathers of the International College of Angiology that have made our College unique, in that it integrates the discipline, knowledge, and skills of several specialties, which treat the many faceted illnesses that result from disorders of the vascular system.

56th Annual World Congress

General Program Information

Congress Description/Objectives

The overall mission of the 56th Annual World Congress of the International College of Angiology is to bring together basic and clinical scientists to share universally current knowledge and techniques in angiology to update the pathophysiology of disease, clinical diagnostic methods, and treatment for improved healthcare delivery and future research.

The ICA Annual World Congress provides a forum for the synthesis of State-of-the-Art information that encompasses the pathophysiology, clinical diagnosis, and treatment of vascular diseases as they are encountered by primary care physicians, vascular, general, thoracic, cardiothoracic, and cardiovascular surgeons, neurosurgeons, cardiologists, internists and cardiology and vascular interventional radiologists.

This Congress is designed to offer a serious academic forum to those physicians and allied healthcare personnel interested in research, education, and clinical investigation in the field of cardiovascular diseases. The congress is intended to provide an in-depth review of the spectrum of topics related to the management and new treatment modalities, including diagnosis, assessment, intervention, risk factors management and surgery.

At the conclusion of this activity, the attendees should be more confident in their ability to:

1. Examine concepts related to cardiovascular diseases.
2. Discuss strategies to improve patient outcomes in managing cardiovascular diseases.
3. Analyze treatment strategies that involve complex patient situations with multiple contributing risk factors.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of our continuing medical education activities, the participant should be able to:

- Describe and apply the value of an integrated approach to the diagnosis and treatment of cardiac and vascular disease.
- Assess and differentiate between competing technologies for vascular intervention.
- Choose when and how to appropriately apply various interventional and non-interventional procedures in the treatment of vascular disease.
- Describe new developments and techniques that will impact performance, practice, and patient care in the future.
- Apply the most recent developments in the diagnosis, medical management, and treatment of cardiac, peripheral vascular and cerebrovascular disorders in order to make improved patient care decisions based on outcome and cost.
- Enhance knowledge in the practice of treating vascular disease.
- Evaluate treatment options for asymptomatic and symptomatic patients with carotid artery disease.
- Define the treatment options of patients with abdominal aortic aneurysms to minimize morbidity and mortality.
- Identify and explore new research problems for future collaboration.

All presentations have a purpose while providing a balanced view of diagnostic and therapeutic options followed by constructive debate. These objectives are achieved through invited guest lectures by nationally and internationally recognized leaders, special symposia, special guest lectures and exhibits, highlighting the most challenging and controversial procedures performed in interventional medicine. Submitted abstracts and invited guest lecturers serve as a major part of the overall program. A significant portion of the program is reserved for question and answer interaction between the presenters and the audience.

Dear Colleagues,

It is a great pleasure and honor for me to welcome you to the 56th Annual World Congress of the International College of Angiology here in Columbus, Ohio.

Since the charter of the International College in 1958 cardiovascular medicine has evolved and expanded tremendously and integrated all disciplines for an improved management of cardiovascular disease.

In today's fast changing global health care environment, the College's aspiration is to contribute to all these directions. Together with our excellent network of academic partners, we continue to extend the frontiers of available cardiovascular capabilities. The College is responsible to make all innovations and diagnostic and treatment possibilities accessible to more patients around the world.

I am very proud to have been able to serve as President of the International College of Angiology for the past 2 years and I am looking forward to an exciting meeting here in Columbus, Ohio, and would like to express my thanks to the Local Organizing Committee for an excellent preparation and outstanding job!

Sincerely,

Save the Date!

John B. Chang, MD, FACS, FICA, Program Chairman
Ismoyo Sunu, MD, PhD, FICA, Chairman, Local Organizing Committee

Join your colleagues from around the world, earn CME, and explore key areas rapidly expanding in cardiovascular medicine and surgery. ICA 2015 is designed to meet the specific educational needs of medical professionals involved with the management and treatment of cardiovascular diseases as they are encountered by primary care physicians, vascular, general, thoracic and cardiovascular surgeons, cardiologists, interventional radiologists, neuro-radiologists, fellows and residents of the above specialties, vascular biologists and nurses.

This Congress is designed to offer a serious academic forum to those physicians and allied healthcare personnel interested in research, education, and clinical investigation in the field of cardiovascular medicine and surgery. The congress is intended to provide an in-depth review of the spectrum of topics related to the management and new treatment modalities, including diagnosis, assessment, intervention, risk factors management and surgery.

At the conclusion of this activity, attendees should be more confident in their ability to:

1. Examine concepts related to cardiovascular diseases.
2. Discuss strategies to improve patient outcomes in managing cardiovascular diseases.
3. Analyze treatment strategies that involve complex patient situations with multiple contributing risk factors.

This annual world congress will feature an internationally renowned faculty, and recognized leaders will discuss state-of-the-art techniques in the diagnosis and treatment of vascular disease. Live video case presentations, didactic lectures, panel discussions, debates, and question and answer sessions will highlight the most challenging, and controversial topics and procedures performed in interventional medicine. We encourage all of our colleagues to participate in this growing educational program by submission of a formal abstract for a standard oral, poster, or video presentation.
