KARLI: "A grocery clerk found unconscious this morning is in critical condition at St. Lukes. On the scene, in Burbank, a security guard who saved his life..."

CORDELIA: You don't want to freeze a family member unless you have to.
KARLI: What is this freezing technology? Is it like a flash freeze, where you rapidly drop the temperature?
RUBEN: It's a hypothermic state which slows biochemical processes.
CORDELIA: So you're still alive...
RUBEN: Unlike cryonics where you're frozen after the spirit leaves the body.
CORDELIA: You have to wonder what happens to the soul... Can they put it on Amazon Web Services?
RUBEN: I'm sure that's not too far away. You could save the voice and the expressions.
KARLI: Your grandparents can become apps.
RUBEN: All their social media accounts could continue to make posts... from your grandma's own instagram account.
KARLI: Instagram and instagrampa.

Dia de los Muertos Celebration

CORDELIA: "Remember the grocery clerk who suffered anaphylactic shock on Halloween?"
RUBEN: "He injected a candy bar made from peanuts, and didn't have an epipen nearby."
CORDELIA: "All it takes is one lethal candy bar, if you have extreme food allergies."
RUBEN: "Can we make product labels safer?"
CORDELIA: "Right. One doctor says fatigue could have contributed to making the wrong decision. Our heart goes out to the family."

LIVE Footage from the Skirball Fire, Bel Air

RUBEN: "You can put your whole family on a bicycle if you're travelling through LA, on the new bike lanes."
KARLI: "One mom tells us it's the fastest way to get everyone going in the same direction."
RUBEN: "And you won't need to worry about spending money on a summer vacation."
KARLI: "Maybe the tandem bicycle is the new staycation?"
RUBEN: "Staycation on wheels? Sounds like a great alternative if you're saving up for a Tesla."
