Office Policies & Informed Consent

Welcome to my office! Choosing to engage in counseling is an important decision. This handout will assist you in making an informed decision concerning my services. Please feel free to ask questions about my office policies or any other concern you may have about my practice at any time.

Counseling Services: Counseling is a process of discovery, learning, healing, and growth done in the context of a therapeutic and professional relationship. I utilize various counseling approaches and techniques with my clients to provide what is most needed and what is most effective for each individual client. I can help you determine a pace that will be most beneficial in your situation. Most clients find that weekly or bi-monthly attendance yield the best results.

Fees: My counseling fees are $175 for 50-minute session, $265 for 85-minute session. If wishing to utilize insurance, a receipt for self-filing will be furnished.

Payment: Fees for counseling are due at the beginning of each visit. Payments can be made with cash or check, or electronically with Apple Pay, Zelle or Venmo. Paying before is a more reliable method, easier to remember, and allow you the ability to reflect on your session without interruption.

Cancellations: Missed appointments or cancellations made with less than 24 hours advance notice of a session require a full session fee. This charge is waived in case of illness or family emergency if a client calls prior to the session. Repeated missed appointments may indicate a lack of readiness or commitment to the counseling process and may result in termination of services.

* I initial that I understand the 24 hour cancellation policy: _____ (Initial Here)

Emergencies: If you have an emergency after hours or require immediate attention when I am not available, please call your doctor or the 24-hour Crisis Hotline (472-4357). You may also call 911 or go to your nearest emergency room if you are in danger of hurting yourself. Attempts to harm yourself may endanger the therapeutic relationship. In such a case, I may refer you to another qualified counselor.

Legal Fees: Any fees related to legal actions that require me to reproduce records or participate in depositions or court appearances will be the undersigned's responsibility. Legal fees will be assessed at $350 per hour.

I have read, understood, and agree to the information above about therapy services, fees, confidentiality, consultation, emergencies, billing procedures, appointments, and cancellations.

Confidentiality & Privacy Notice

This notice describes how mental health information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

I will use the information about your health, which I get from you or from others mainly to provide you with treatment, to arrange payment for services, and for some other business activities, which are called, in the law, health care operations.

Disclosure (send, share, release) of any of your information for any other purposes will be discussed with you and you will be asked to sign an Authorization form to allow this. I will, of course, keep your mental health information private but there are times when the laws of the State of Texas require me to use or share it.

1. If I have cause to believe that a child or elderly person has been, or may be abused or neglected.
2. If you are involved in a court proceeding which involves a court order requiring information about your diagnosis and treatment.
3. If it appears that you pose a serious threat to yourself or someone else, I may disclose relevant health information to medical or law enforcement personnel.

Your Rights Regarding Your Health Information

1. Right to Request Confidential Communication. You can ask me to communicate with you about your health and related issues in a particular way or at a certain place which is more private for you. I will try my best to do as you ask.
1. Right to Request Restrictions. You have the right to ask me to limit what I tell people involved in your care or the payment for your care, such as family members and friends.
2. Right to Access to Inspect and Copy. You have the right to look at the health information I have about you such as your medical and billing records. You can even get a copy of these records but I may charge you a reasonable fee for this. I will respond to requests in a timely manner, without delay for legal review, in less than 15 days if submitted in writing. I may deny access to any portion of a record (in accordance with the Texas Health & Safety Code 611.0045 (b)) if I determine that release of that portion would be harmful to a client's physical, mental, or emotional health.
3. Right to Amend. If you believe the information in your records is incorrect or missing important information, you can ask me to make some kinds of changes (called amending) to your health information, although I am not required to agree to the amendment. You have to make this request in writing and tell me the reasons you want to make the changes.
4. Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request an accounting of certain of the disclosures that I make of your PHI. I may charge you reasonable fees if you request more than one accounting in any 12-month period.

Complaints: I am a Licensed Professional Counselor licensed by The Texas State Board of Examiners of Professional Counselors. You have the right to contact the state board with complaints about the professional conduct of any counselor at Complaints Management and
