To Whom it May Concern,

Manchester, Missouri is in love with Craig Berube-Gray's piece Slices of Heaven that was installed this summer. Already we have seen a lot of traffic around the sculpture and many people stop and take photos with it.

Its location in our Paul Schroeder Park next to the playgrounds, walking path, and fields give it lots of exposure to our art appreciating community. The bright orange color act as a magnet for both children and adults alike.

We are so glad that Craig submitted his work to our Creative Communities Alliance - Sculpture on the Move Program and that we were able to get Slices of Heaven (our first pick) for the next two years. Craig was able to deliver and install Slices of Heaven during a very trying time (the COVID-19 Pandemic) and was a joy to speak with.

I recommend that you consider one of Craig Berube-Gray's pieces for your event or space.

Sincerely,
