VALUE OF THE MONTH

DIVERSITY

At New Dawn we are recognized by our commitment with diversity, everyone has a place in our organization, our professionals and clients are treated with respect and dignity. We comply with all the goals and It is seen day by day in the community we serve.

EXECUTIVE REPORT 2020-2021

For 5 years we have had 56% of our employees.

56% of our team remains the same since 9 people from our team remain committed to the service work of our company.

DID YOU KNOW?

On average, our professionals served about 230 people per week in general programs, Beacon, and parent groups.

The pandemic did not stop our work in the community, allowing us to serve them with our services through Telehealth.

LATINO BUSINESS AWARD

We are pleased to announce that our CEO Cynthia Torres has been awarded the Latino Business Award in June for her outstanding work with the community and proficient mental health services.

"Human connection was compromised and limited during the pandemic... it increased the need for our services, but also created awareness"

JUNE OUR BLOG

This last year we have experienced great challenges to our mental health and the mental wellness of our loved ones, especially our children. Before movies were the closest thing to experiencing an epidemic or pandemic, but we never imagined that we would be part of it and how influential it would impact our lifestyles.

This unprecedented situation and inevitable set of circumstances put us in a scenario of uncertainty and confusion. For parents, it has been especially difficult to remain calm and centered as to be able to protect our little ones when we ourselves may be filled with anguish or fear. The scary truth is even if we try to be prepared and prevent negative experiences from happening to our children, there will be situations that we cannot control or foresee, so as parents the best thing we can do is be present and if necessary be able to seek professional help.
