Miss Richards recommends.....

Don't Worry Little Crab is a wonderful book with beautiful illustrations. It's the perfect book to help younger children understand the concept of bravery and how to build up the courage to try something new.

Something Else has been a favourite of ours for a few years now. With Anti-bullying week coming up in November, it's the perfect book to share. It is a simple story about a small creature who just wants to fit in.

This classic book is over 50 years old and is still a wonderful book to share. It's a story about mischievous Max his imagination and the journey he goes on.
