

Ohio Association for Spiritual, Ethical, and Religious Values in Counseling (OASERVIC)
and
Family and Child Abuse Prevention Center
Present a Winter Workshop
February 26, 2016
with Jean Underfer-Babalis, LPCC S

"Ethical Considerations with Religion and Spirituality in Counseling"

Making ethical decisions are inevitable in the counseling profession, and yet professional counselors become anxious when the occasion arrives to speak about religion and spirituality.

Attendees will learn:

- the rationale for using an ethical decision making model, as well as the proposed benefits.
- about the Feminist and Multicultural Decision Making Model and how to apply the model.
- how to approach religion and spirituality with more confidence and making an ethical decision that protects the welfare of the client.

This workshop will be dyadic and experiential. Come to learn and to participate.

Registration table opens at 9:30 a.m. Presentation will run from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Lunch will be provided. Three counseling CEU's will be offered. Registration deadline is Wednesday, February 24, 2016. The workshop is offered at Family and Child Abuse Prevention Center 2460 Cherry Street Toledo, OH 43608
