The Galveston Daily News.

ESTABLISHED 1842. GALVESTON, STAURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1872. NUMBER 34.

Galveston News.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1872.

LAURA D. FAIR, since her acquittal, has brought suit against her mother, Mrs. Lane, for the recovery of $16,000, which was transferred to the latter when Mrs. Fair was under sentence of death.

OLD Field-Marshal von Moltke lives quietly in the little Silesian town of Schwidnitz. He can be seen every day, in a long black frock-coat, smoking an enormous pipe, and reading the newspapers, at the only cafe in the place.

JAMES ANTHONY FROUDE, the historian, is in New York, lecturing on the relations between England and Ireland. He was recently the recipient of a public dinner at Delmonico's, which was attended by many of the prominent literati of that city. In appearance Mr. Froude is tall and handsome. He has a wonderfully gentle and musical voice, a pleasant face, and bright gray eyes.

MINISTER NELSON, who has obtained leave of absence, is expected in Washington from Mexico soon, and will bring, it is believed, information from the Mexican government favorable to a solution of the existing difficulties over the American-Mexican Joint Claims Commission, including an extension, by treaty, of the time under which it is operating.

THE citizens of Galveston will thank Governor Davis for his denunciation of the riotous conduct of the negroes here on Monday night, for it is peace that our people most desire, and however that may be accomplished, through whatever motive and by whatever influence, we shall be content. But the citizens of Galveston cannot forget that the past teachings of Governor Davis, and his party, gave rise to this spirit of violence on the part of the negroes in the South, and, more than all else, has kept alive the spirit of bitterness and hostility among the people.

IT has been suggested to us that as there are quite a number of ladies in this city having families to support by their own exertions, it would be but an act of justice to them that a wider field should be opened to enable them to support themselves, and that there are a number of clerkships in our city now filled by robust young men that might be filled very appropriately by ladies, who have the requisite qualifications, the duties being very light. Such situations are now filled by ladies in most of the other States. It has been suggested, for instance, that the ladies' letter department in our postoffice could be very appropriately filled by a lady clerk, and that our postmaster would be willing to appoint to that position any competent lady well recommended by our citizens.

SENOR DIAZ, of the Spanish Cortes, is to be most heartily commended He made recently, in that body, a severe attack upon the "insubordination and ferocity" of the Cuban volunteers of Havana. We are sorry to learn that the Minister of the Colonies defended and praised these men who have shot down American citizens in the streets of Havana; who demanded the murder of the students there for a boyish indiscretion; who fired into an unarmed crowd in the theatre, and who gave to the nineteenth century an idea of the soldiers of Alva, and are the direct descendants in spirit of the buccaneers who plundered and murdered, and held high carnival of rapine and spoil in these seas centuries ago. These Spanish or Cuban volunteers are despicable men, and if the head of our government at Washington cared one farthing for the honor and dignity of our country, they would never have been permitted to insult our flag and to violate the neutrality laws by seizing American citizens.

GENERAL W. A. C. RYAN is in Washington getting up an expedition to Cuba, which he says will upset all the calculations of the Spanish Cabinet. According to his statements, he has recently received assurance that within a week from the time of lancing an expedition, a force of ten thousand soldiers can be rallied to his standard. He claims to have already obtained subscriptions in Washington amounting to $185,000. Though under bonds of over $275,000, he expresses a determination not to let that deter him. A schooner of 400 tons burden is to be fitted out, to carry 500 volunteers and extensive supplies of munitions of war, including probably 20,000 stand of arms, 10,000 revolvers, several cannon and ammunition. Ryan expresses the utmost confidence of success, but it appears that he has not the entire sympathy of Cubans in this country.

A prominent gentleman of Washington, who is identified with the cause of Cuban independence, stated to the correspondent of the Herald, (from which this article is condensed,) that Ryan has lost cast with Jose Mayorga, authorized Cuban agent in New York, and ought not to be trusted with any more ventures of the kind he has been undertaking. This gentleman explicitly alleges that Ryan has repeatedly sold out the cause of the insurgents, from the fact that more money could be made by giving information to the Spanish authorities; that Ryan is no Cuban, and is simply seeking profit and notoriety; that he is a coward, and has invariably failed in his expeditions. Other charges are made against him, and in certain circles they are widely credited. On the other hand, Ryan claims to have authority from Cespedes and Mayorga to proceed with the undertaking, and appears determined to do so.

The World's Fair at Vienna, 1873.

HOUSTON, Oct. 22, 1872.

EDS. NEWS—As the tide of progress rolls on in our truly remarkable century, the relations between the different nations on the surface of the earth become more intimate, and numerous are the agents brought into play to effect a perfect harmony. A new instance for the veracity of this assertion is presented by the extensive Austrian Empire, which, laying as it does in the southwestern part of Europe, surrounded by the most enlightened nations, such as Germany, France Switzerland and the powerful Russian Empire, invites the whole world to assemble in that celebrated old city, Vienna, and there peaceably compete for prizes for every product of art, manufacture and culture, next year, from May to October. Invitations to participate in this amicable contest have been issued to every nation, and the United States of America have accepted one. While our system of government is one of agreement and not of coercion, the national executive could only recommend such measures to the Governors of the respective States as will make the participation of the United States, by its individual States, a perfect success, and reflect credit on our giant Republic.

Gov. Davis has appointed the five commissioners allotted to the State of Texas as her representatives in Vienna to the World's Fair. The following are the members: Francis Forster, Esq., of Messrs. Forster & Kuehne, merchants at Austin; W. G. Kingsbury, President of the Agricultural, Stock-raising and Industrial Association of Western Texas, at San Antonio; Gustav Loeffler, Esq., Superintendent of the Bureau of Immigration for the State of Texas, at Houston; James Arbuckle, Esq., of James Arbuckle & Co., bankers, Jefferson, Texas; and Mr. Ribermann, merchant at Navasota, Grimes county, Texas.

The appointment of these commissioners was made after our State Legislature had adjourned, and therefore no appropriation exists enabling the commission to do their work as it ought to be done, nor have they any means to forward such articles to Vienna as we may with pride exhibit. It is therefore necessary that our people themselves take this matter in hand, and, by subscribing liberally for a fund to defray expenses for freight, give our State a wide reputation in the Old World. The commissioners have all declared their willingness to devote their time and services gratis, and only ask that the expenses for shipment of articles intended for the World's Fair be borne by the exhibitors and the people. A better chance to prominently bring Texas before the whole world than the Vienna Fair could never be offered. There will be representatives of all nations, and how can we better draw the attention of the whole world to our Empire State than by exhibiting our products to the eyes of everybody. I have called the attention of our County Fairs to this subject, suggesting to them the propriety of selecting the most praisworthy articles on exhibition there as specimens to Vienna, and offering to take charge of them here in Houston previous to shipment for Vienna.

The occasion to do much good to Texas is presented here. Will our people be idle and let it pass unnoticed? I hope not. Other States are on the look-out, and have already shipped articles to Vienna; and Texas, which can do as well, if not better than other States, having the largest territory, most fertile soil and better resources than any State in the Union, ought to exert all her energy and endeavors to shine as the "Lone but brightest Star" in the constellation of stars forming our young Republic.

The room allotted to Texas in the Exposition Hall comprises 5000 square feet, and articles will be received up to February 1, 1873. It is therefore desirable that speedy action be taken by our people. It is especially one item which, as it touches the life nerve of our State, occupies my attention more than all others connected with the World's Fair. Vienna, the capital of the Austrian Empire, whose emperors have for a long period been emperors of Germany, cannot be called a specific Austrian city; just as little as New York, London or Paris have a right to the names of American, English or French cities. They all are, although situated on Austrian, American, English or French soil, cosmopolitan cities, the representatives of the commercial world at large, and as such they are to be regarded. Until very late Texas was but little known out of the United States, even not well there and the strenuous efforts of the Bureau of Immigration of Texas have done much to correct many vague and erroneous ideas and views in regard to our soil, climate and people. If we exhibit in Vienna and show to the whole world, because the whole world will be represented there, and call the attention of all to our inexhaustible resources and variety of climate by showing our fruits, grains, minerals and live stock, the interest of Europe especially will be awakened in our State, and many will desire to see the land that is able to produce such products. It will give a new impulse to immigration, and instead of a few emigrating as an experiment, thousands will arrive on our sea shore.

We all know that the Europeans who have settled among us belong now to our best and most solid class of citizens. They are generally intelligent, energetic, trustworthy and reliable, and of these people we cannot get too many. Let us, therefore, show them what we can do for them, what we are doing, invite them to come and live with us. Again, I say to our people, consider this matter well, and by all means let not the Lone Star State remain passive and behind her sister States in the Union, but do her best to be worthily represented at the World's Fair at Vienna in 1873. L.

THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL TRADE.—The total production of all kinds of coal for the week was 499,541 tons, and for the year 16,950,743 tons, against 12,814,106 to corresponding time last year, showing an increase of 4,136,547 tons. Vessels are reported scarce and in demand. The coal trade is reported steady, under a pretty full supply of orders.—Phil. Ledger.

MISS LAURA HANCOCK, a niece of General W. S. Hancock, was married at St. Paul, Minnesota, lately to Wm. R. Merrian. The St. Paul Pioneer says the presents to the bride exceeded anything of the kind ever seen in the northwest.

TAKE courage—there is hope for all! Recently a Kentuckian at Liberty, Mo., but seventy-three years of age, led to the altar of Hymen, Miss Elize Routt, sister of Col. H. L. Routt. Seventy-one summers had passed over the head of the bride ere she became a wife.

STATE NEWS.

The Houston Age of the 24th inst. is an improvement upon any previous issue. It is quite lively.

The Corsicana Observer announces that Miss Annie Jones, of that place, has been appointed a member of the Executive Committee of the Magruder Monument Association.

The fall meeting of the Navarro Jockey Club will be held over the race course, near Corsicana, commencing November 12th.

A couple of negroes quarreled over a card table at Corsicana last Monday night. One was shot with a little pistol, and the other was stabbed with a little knife. The probability is that Grant will lose a couple of votes.

The Mayor of Corsicana receives Confederate money at par, and gives silver in change.

Denison City already boasts of two hundred houses built, and as many more under way.

The Montgomery Press says that the town of "Willis is spreading all over the big thicket."

A man was recently discovered lying in the road near Austin, having received severe injuries from being run over by his wagon.

Lampasas has A. Rhorer, for a watchmaker. He is not of the ring-tailed sort.

The first regular "blue norther" visited Cooke county on the 16th inst.

Mrs. Purdom, wife of Major R. H. Purdom, editor of the Central Texan, at Calvert, was recently thrown from her carriage and severely, but not dangerously injured.

GEN. T. B. VAN BUREN, Commissioner of the World's Fair at Vienna, in an address at the American Institute, on the 17th inst., stated that this exhibition will be the largest affair of the kind ever carried out in the world. The building will occupy a space six times larger than that occupied by the Paris Exposition. It will be erected in a park, 900 acres in area. It will be 3000 feet in length and 82 foet wide, with transepts 350 feet long by 50 feet wide. It will contain 1,500,000 square feet of flooring. The dome will be the largest ever constructed in the world, and shall have double the area of the dome of St. Peter's, at Rome. The dome will stand upon pillars 82 feet in circumference and 356 feet in height. That is only the main building, as the machinery will occupy another building 2,600 feet in length by 150 feet wide, and the agricultural implements will be placed in another edifice of equally large dimensions. The western transept of both buildings has been assigned to the exhibitors from the United States, and if we had our choice we could not have selected a better locality, as it is the nearest to Vienna, and consequently people going and coming have to pass through it.

Gen. Van Buren said he intends to take to this International Exhibition specimens of every newspaper and periodical published in the United States, and they will be classified under the heads of States and cities, and a catalogue made out showing the age, date of issue and circulation of each publication. This will go far to show the progress and stability of this country.

The straight-out Democrats of Illinois nominated Judge Breese for Governor, but he declined. With this failure to raise a Breese, they are not likely to carry the State by storm.—Courier-Journal.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE OFFICE OF THE BLOOD.

The blood flows from the heart through the blood vessels, and is thus carried to every part of the body. It leaves the heart by one large blood vessel, but this is being continually divided and subdivided like a tree with its branches, or like the water pipes of a large city. The final ramifications called the capillaries, are exceedingly minute—far finer than hairs. Their walls are very thin, so that the blood easily passes through them. Being thus brought into contact, in every portion of the system, with all the various organs and tissues of which the body is made up, it both carries away from each part all the worn-out and used-up material, and also builds up each part with new material—whatever may be requisite. Now Dr. Gottlieb Pisch's Bitters, by stimulating the stomach, promotes the formation of blood; and by stimulating the nervous system, promotes also the discharge of these its peculiar functions!

This subject continued next week under "Summer Heat." oct25D1w

DR. C. F. BROWN'S

YOUNG AMERICAN LINIMENT.

This Liniment has gained a lasting reputation, where it has been used, in most cases which require an external remedy, such as rheumatism, soreness and swelling of the breast, pain and weakness in the back and joints, sprains, bruises, cramps, numbness, frozen limbs, bites of insects, old sores, fever sores, goitre or swelled neck, paralysis, wounds, erysipelas, bites of reptiles, headache, white swellings, mange, poison burns, all swellings, salt rheum, corns, warts, sore eyes, run-rounds, etc. We assert positively that it will cure any case of swenny in existence; also splint, galls, sprains, or strains, bruises, scratches, wounds, big head, wind galls, sore eyes, swellings, etc.; and has never failed to cure fistula, poll-evil, ring-bone and spavin. When used in the beginning, strictly according to directions, and given internally with the food, it is a harmless but certain remedy for worms. Do not fail to give it a trial; only 25c. a bottle.

CAUTION.—In order to protect the public against imitations, all the genuine will have a private United States revenue stamp engraved expressly for it, which stamp will be found on the wrapper over the cork of every bottle. It represents a horse held by a groom, and is encircled by the words "Dr. C. F. Brown's Young American Liniment."
