Artisan Cheese Plate $7 ea/$24 for 4
Manchego (Spain, sheep), pistachio honey

The flavour of Manchego changes as the cheese matures. The texture is smooth and creamy and a little bit granular – the beginnings of the dry, crumbly texture of a long-aged Manchego. The cheese tastes sweet and salty as well as lightly nutty.

Can de Cabra, (Murcia, goat), spiced plums

Creamy and mild, with tangy citrus notes, this soft-ripened goat cheese log is much like the French Boucheron. Murcia is famous for its rich quality goat's milk. It's aged 21 days and is creamy, mild and intensifies as it ages.

Beehive Seahive (Utah, cow), fig jam

A cheddar-style cheese made with pasteurized Jersey milk. It is produced by Beehive Cheese Company in Utah, United States. A mixture of local honey and Redmond RealSalt is hand-rubbed on a one day old cheese and allowed to mature for over 8 months

Big Rock Blue (Central Coast cows milk), jalepeno-green tomato jelly

a rich, ivory-colored cheese laced with brilliant teal veining and a flavor profile equally as stunning. With a light pressing the cheese maintains a curdy texture reminiscent of fudge, making it ideal for towering on a cheese plate or as a crumbly addition to your favorite salad mild and approachable yet brimming with hints of fresh butter and salty bacon.
