Well, I just completed an epic trip. A flight to Palm Springs California and back for the AOPA Summit (That's a pilot group). I went with a good friend of mine and flight instructor Geoff Orlandi, without whom the trip would not be possible. The link below is a photo album documenting the flight. From the flight records I compiled the following statistics;

Total Fuel Used:	335.65 gal
Air Miles to Palm Springs:	2097nm
Air Miles to Blairstown:	2199nm
Total Air Miles:	4296nm
Miles/Gal:	12.82

That's not bad, considering my truck gets about 16 m/gal and the M gets 14. I put all emails in the posting in the "Blind" so you will only see your email address. That's in case some of you don't want to be contacted by any other J. So enjoy the pictures and video's.
