Are We Experts Yet?

Facilitated by:

Veronica Latchman, Alexis Serrano & Shirley Roseman

“Are We Experts Yet?” is a monthly peer support group for students, interns and new professionals. Wherever you are in your new social work career, you are welcome to join us as we figure it out together!

Each month on the first Thursday, we will gather for one hour to discuss a variety of topics relevant to the Broward Unit budding professionals!

This is a virtual event. You will receive a Zoom link prior to the event.

Registration is free for NASW Members and $5 for non-members.

To register, go to www.naswfl.org/events.html.
