

Media Release 2014

We wish each and every one of you a very Happy New Year, may it be as exciting for you as we believe it will be for us, as we continue to be your number one interpreter and translator training provider in Australia. We pledge to continue to provide high quality informative, educational, innovative and sustainable training services to you.

We look forward to attending to your training needs related to Professional Development, Revalidation, Preparation towards an exam or recognition of your credentials. In attending to your training needs, we have produced a Calendar full of informative and educational training opportunities and events, in the form of competency units/modules, short courses, specialised legal and court interpreter training as well as medical and health interpreter training programs, workshops and seminars which will take place in Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide and Brisbane, as well as Webinars, our online training opportunities Australia-wide for persons who are not able to physically attend our training programs.

As you already know, in addition to the training services, we also publish and sell new textbooks and handbooks by prominent educators to enhance your experience and skills. One such book is 'A Handbook for Legal and Court Interpreters in Australia' by Mary Vasilakakos. This book was published in December 2014. The book is available for purchase in paperback as well as ebook. For more information on this and other publications that we offer, please visit the Books and Resources page on this website.

In 2015 we will also publish "A Handbook for Health and Medical Interpreters in Australia".

Please check our website regularly for updates on this and other projects.

December 12, 2014 was a milestone day for professional interpreters and translators in Adelaide, South Australia. For the first time in Adelaide, interpreters and translators were able to receive personal attention in a Language Experts professional development training program. Our highly skilled and experienced trainer, Mr. Gary Logan conducted the courses at the delightful BioSA Conference Centre in Thebarton, close to the Adelaide CBD, attended by a number of practising interpreters and translators in different languages.

These approved pd/revalidation courses provided the participants with information and knowledge and skills required for effective communication and performance of their duties, such as Ethics and Professionalism, Memory Retention and Note Taking Skills, Telephone Interpreting Techniques and Research Skills for Interpreters and Translators. Furthermore, the courses provided essential revalidation points and certificates of attendance were issued to all participants.

It is worth noting the comment from one of the participants who wrote in appreciation, "at last Adelaide is getting some personal attention!"

Language Experts is planning to give more "personal attention" to Adelaide this year. An Introduction to Health and Legal Interpreting Course is a one-day course that is being planned for Adelaide professionals in coming months. Dates for this and other programs will be provided in a forthcoming newsletter.

Language Experts is the only dedicated interpreter and translator training organisation providing professional interpreter and translator training in Adelaide and South Australia.

It is the goal of Language Experts to give "personal attention" and training in convenient locations across Australia to further enhance the skills of professionals working in the interpreting and translation service industry.