Industry Terms & Tools

Industry Terminology

The Packaging Industry uses Roman numerals for Unit of Measure.

UOM = Unit of Measure

M = 1,000	oz = Ounce
C = 100	lb = Pound
CS = Case	in = Inch
EA = Each	ft or ' = Foot
PC = Piece	in or " = Inch
RL = Roll	cm = Centimeter
RM = Ream	mm = Millimeter
PK = Pack	m = Meter
YD = Yard	SKU = Stock Keeping Unit

Poly Terms:

Plastics Symbols

Plastic Resin Identification Codes

PETE	HDPE	PVC	LDPE	PP	PS	OTHER
Polyethylene Terephthalate	High-Density Polyethylene	Polyvinyl Chloride	Low-Density Polyethylene	Polypropylene	Polystyrene	Other

There are two typical ways to measure the thickness of plastic

LDPE thickness is measured as mil (1/1000 of an inch)
1mil is 0.001", noted as .001mil

HDPE thickness is measured as micron (1/1,000,00 of a meter)
25.5 micron is = to 0.001mil, noted as 25.5 micron

Paper Terms:

Paper thickness is measured as:

Basis Weight (domestic)

Basis Weight is the weight of a sheet of paper based on standard size. Paper types are categorized by their base size in the U.S. These base sizes are used to calculate a paper's basis weight. The basis weight equals the ream (500 sheet) weight of the base size, hence the term basis weight.

GSM (import)

GSM Stands for the "Grams per square meter" and refers to the weight of the paper.

NK = Natural Kraft - WK = White Kraft - CC = Claycoat

FOB Shipping Terms:

What is Freight On Board (FOB)? Freight on Board (FOB), also referred to as Free on Board, is an international commercial law term published by the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC). It indicates the point at which the costs and risks of shipped goods shift from the seller to the buyer.

In modern domestic shipping, the term is used to describe the time when the seller is no longer responsible for the shipped goods and when the buyer is responsible for paying the transport costs. Ideally, the seller pays the freight charges to a major port or other shipping destination and the buyer pays the transport costs from the warehouse to his store or vendors.

The determination of who will be charged the freight costs is usually indicated in the terms of sale. If the Freight On Board is indicated as "FOB delivered," the seller or shipper will be wholly responsible for all the costs involved in transporting the consignment. Where the FOB terms of sale are indicated as "FOB Origin," the buyer is responsible for the costs involved in transporting the goods from the seller's warehouse to the final destination.

It is important to note that FOB does not define the ownership of the cargo, only who has the shipping cost responsibility. The ownership is defined by the bill of lading or waybill.

Shipper

The shipper is responsible for coordinating the outbound logistics of the freight.

Carrier

The shipper handles the outbound logistics of the freight and pairs the shipment with the right carrier for the job. The shipper may use a freight broker to find the carrier.

Consignee

"Consignee" refers to the party that will pay for freight shipping. Often, the consignee of a shipment is the shipper.

Bill of Lading (BOL)

The BOL is a document that provides the driver and the carrier with all the details they need to process the freight shipment and invoice it properly.

Blind Shipment

A blind shipment occurs when the shipper and the receiver are not aware of one another. In such cases, the BOL lists the party that paid for the shipment as the shipper or receiver of the freight.

Less than Truck Load (LTL)

An LTL carrier will haul as many freight orders as it can manage and deliver them in whichever order best suits the journey. LTL carriers essentially carpool freight. Depending on the freight class, LTL is often the cheapest option for shippers. However, this method also tends to have the longest linehaul of all carriers.

Truck Load (TL)

The load is large enough to require its own truck.
The load is fragile enough to require special handling.
Time-sensitive shipment: The shipment has time-critical or time-definite restrictions.

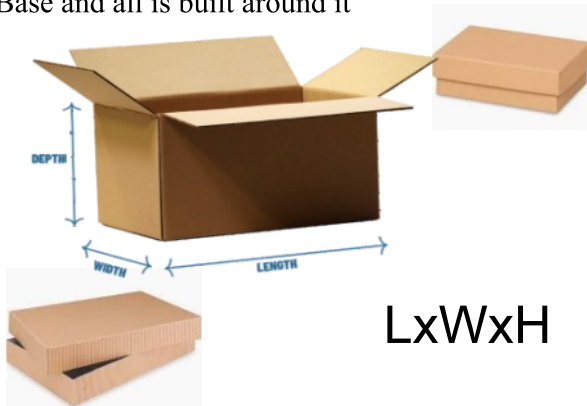

Freight Class

There are 18 different freight classes that range from Class 500 to Class 50. Freight classification is a specialized skill within the industry and is only really relevant if a shipper is considering using a less-than-truckload (LTL) carrier. As defined below, LTL carriers specialize in small shipments.
