

♥Out of the Mouths of Babes♥

Rachael Martin 11,22,2019

Luke 18:15-17 - And they were bringing even their babies to Him so that He would touch them, but when the disciples saw it, they began rebuking them. But Jesus called for them, saying, "Permit the children to come to Me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. Truly I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child will not enter it at all."

I asked my girls what the Lord had been showing them lately. I felt like it was time to hear from the children. I pray you are blessed by what they have to say. I won't tell you which one said what, I just typed as it flowed from them. 😊

No matter what, you have to be there for your friends and family but also to balance that God comes first in your life.

You shouldn't put emotions in front of what you do every day.

Some things can form habits without you realizing it so you need to carefully look at the things you're doing and find ways to not make it overly crazy. To keep your life from getting muddled to the point where you don't understand how you feel about certain things because you're so used to doing that one thing.

Sometimes you have to be the mean one when you don't want to, and you have to realize that sometimes you have to take charge even if you are more of a sheep than a shepherd – you need to learn how to be a leader.

God made you the way you are. You don't have to be perfect. You don't have to look into a mirror and say "I wish my eyes were closer... I wish this, I wish that." We are more than just a little piece of speck, we are a part of God. We are a part of something bigger than we can imagine. That should make us feel special.

Ask God to help you with knowing that He has a place for you and ask Him to help you to see that you are perfect in every way and that He made you the way you are. Ephesians 5 tells us about this.

This world is crazy!

If God were right here, I would thank Him for all of these experiences that He's given me but I would also ask for Him to help me understand how to deal with the situations I'm in better than I feel I do already – for guidance. I would ask Him to help me realize the correct way to back out of things I shouldn't be in.

I would say thank You that He has made me who I am and He's allowed me to be in situations and now I know how to deal with them – and I would thank Him for the gift of laughter. I would give Him a very big hug.

I would ask Him to take me home.

I would ask Him to give me comfort and help me to be more mature in situations because sometimes something just comes out of me and I feel like everything goes completely wrong and I would ask Him to help me to know the right things to do.

~~ Lord thank You for my children, thank You for all the beautiful children in this world – I ask that You would continue to bless them and keep them and shine Your light on them – give them wisdom and hold them in Your mighty hand. I praise You – for You are where our help comes from and I give You glory for the beautiful things You do each and every day – for giving us breathe and for gifting us with salvation to see You face to face soon and very soon. Thank You Jesus. Amen. © 2019 www.gatheringathisfeet.org EMAIL: gina@gatheringathisfeet.org
