Hawai'i Police Department

Halloween safety tips

During this Halloween if you are out walking , make yourself visible by wearing light colored or reflective materials, carry a flashlight, and walk facing the flow of traffic. Make sure you're not distracted by an electronic device and cross the road at an intersection. Drivers don't expect to see pedestrians on the road in the middle of a block, which can lead to a crash or even worse. Before the Halloween festivities begin, plan a way to get home safely at the end of the night. Alcohol affects judgment, balance, and reaction time. Create a "buddy system" to get each other home safely. Walking impaired can be just as dangerous as drunk driving.

Drivers can easily make traveling on Halloween much more safe by following a few suggested safety tips.

Avoid using handheld electronic devices.

Remember that as soon as you step out of your car, you become a pedestrian.

If you see a drunk driver or impaired pedestrian on the road, contact local law enforcement.

Slow down in areas where pedestrians are likely to be or where sight distances are limited. Keep your windshield clean.

If you attend a small gathering and drink alcohol or consume anything that will impair your ability operate a vehicle safely, don't drive. Hawai'i Police Department Patrol Officers and Traffic Enforcement Units will be out specifically looking for drunk drivers this Halloween. If you are under the influence of any substance that prevents driving safely and an officer stops you, you will be arrested. The fines, court fees, attorney fees are all costly, but the impact of a serious crash can carry more than a financial cost. Remember that "Buzzed Driving is Drunk Driving."

OCTOBER 2022

WARNING—RAINBOW FENTANYL: Hawai'i Island police are again warning the public about the dangers of fentanyl after ongoing investigations have led to the recovery of fentanyl in various forms. Since issuing a warning about fentanyl in June, Hawai'i Police Department has seen the recent arrival of rainbow fentanyl on island, particularly in west Hawai'i. It's commonly called rainbow fentanyl because it comes in colored pill form that resembles candy.

Hawai'i Island police suggests citizens be cautious of:

- Unknown or unlabeled powders, solutions, or rocks.
- Pills or capsules that may resemble actual medications, but their origin is not certain.
- Did it come from a pharmacy?
- Is it properly packaged/labeled?
- Is there a medical prescription associated to it?
- If the answer is no, do not touch.

Recognize fentanyl poisoning: An individual experiencing fentanyl poisoning may exhibit one or more of the following:

- Drowsiness or unresponsiveness
- Constricted or pinpoint pupils
- Slow or no breathing

If these signs are observed, contact emergency medical services at 911 and provide a description of the circumstances. An option may be to administer Naloxone, if it is available and you have received training in its administration. Otherwise, follow directions from the dispatcher until emergency medical services arrive.
