

GOD IS HERE, CAN YOU FEEL HIM?

Sometimes it is hard to know, really know, that the Lord loves us and is moving among us. The truth is that we can know for sure because He has said it was true. He is right beside us, walking with us. I envision a father, sometimes my own, holding out his arms in outreach to me. He is waiting for me, smiling a loving inviting smile. Because I knew a loving earthly father that is easy for me to imagine His word says that he will never leave us or forsake us.

Can you feel his arms around you? Isn't that a wonderful feeling?

Just stop for a minute and imagine it. He is holding you, hugging you, telling you that His is there. His is comforting you. He wants you to stop and take the time for Him; to hold you. His is waiting.

Can you see Him?

Can you feel Him?

Wait a minute.

Don't go away.

He is coming.

Listen for Him.

Look for Him.

Be patient, God is here.

Reach out to Him.
