East Texas Traditions of Autumn Trails

Fall Foliage, Trail Rides, Arts & Crafts, Trades Days, Contests, Fords & Fun

By C.G. WILLIS | Editor, TCR

Autumn Trails celebrates its 65th anniversary this year. The annual month-long east Texas celebration was the brain-child of Howard Rosser, former editor of The Winnsboro News. In the early years, about 1958, the Trail Ride gathered thousands of horse lovers with their covered wagons and campsites at city park, and leisurely trail rides throughout the winding country roads.

Over the decades, the Autumn Trails Association has added "Old Car Weekend", a Classic Car show, Jeeptober, beauty pageant, Art and Crafts Market, Trades Days / Swap Meet / Flea Market, youth and mule rodeos, various contests from Chili Cookoffs, Pie and Baking, Beard and Moustache, Pets, Corn Hole, 42 dominoes, tournament, live music and bands, and this year, the first every region "Dallas Belt: The Lone Star Pepper Palooza" hot pepper eating contest, hot sauce contest and vendors.

The first weekend 2023 includes a combined Autumn Trails Pageant on Saturday, October 7, at 6 p.m., with entrants in four categories ranging from ages 4-18. Earlier that day, with a two different runs beginning at City Park. One, is a 5K run ($15 adults, $10 kids under 18), hosted by the Winnsboro ISD Interact (Rotary) Club at 8 a.m. Then at 10 a.m. is a second .05K "run" (literally ONLY 164 feet), for other folks of any age, toddling, young old, using strollers, canes, walkers, wheelchairs. This .05K benefits the local area food pantry. The entry fee is simply a can a food.

The second weekend includes the Youth Rodeo on Saturday, October 14, beginning at 9 a.m. until it ends, at the Winnsboro Rodeo Arena, adjacent to city park, at 937 Wheeler Drive, Winnsboro, TX.

The third weekend, the longest most traditional weekend, is "Trail Ride" Weekend. Trail Ride Weekend is set with an inaugural parade on October 20, at 4 p.m., in Winnsboro, winding through downtown and ending at City Park. The trail rides are set for Saturday and Sunday, varying from 15-about 16 miles each day. The trail ride maps are on the ATA's website at www.WinnsboroAutumnTrails.com.

About the 1963 and 1964, "Uncle Bob" Willis, then 33, and his good friend J.B. Vaughn, decided to drive their Model A Ford cars around downtown. They made their own two car parade and honked their horns and hollered, and had a grand ol'time getting merchants and customers at the sidewalk sales to wave at them. The next year, "Uncle Bob" brought friends from the Dallas & Ft. Worth Model A Ford Clubs. Each year, on the 4th Saturday in October, more As and old cars from all around Texas entered the impromptu Autumn Trails Antique Car parade. Townsfolks, young and old, lined Broadway and Main Street to see the grandeur and often silliness of entrants, some dressed in hillbilly attire and apparel from the early 1900s -1930s. Over the decades, the tradition has continued, with as many as 400 antique vehicles from five states, entering in the traditional parade, and attendees turning the love of old vehicles

The splendour of Autumn in Trails

The many tree-canopied roadways rolling and winding through the tri-county area near Winnsboro provide a wonderful and often colorful autumn backdrop to a leisurely drive for old Ford Model A vehicles, as they chug along on their annual Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning road tours the fourth weekend of each October for the past 56 years. For folks without a "A", sometimes "modern irons" often join in the driving trails of memories.

into a weekend long affair. The Ford Model A weekend includes an opening stew for the Model A clubs Friday night, weekend driving tours through the piney woods, a BBQ for the Model A car clubs, and a public Trades Days / Flea market all weekend.

For this decades-long popular east Texas tourism tradition, the Autumn Trails Association hopes you join the community, business sponsors and the city of Winnsboro and Wood County in celebrating the wonder and beauty of Autumn Trails.
