Bill Hull, Principal

Bill Hull is PwC's U.S. Risk Assurance Industrial Products Sector leader and our Digital Risk Solutions leader for the Southeast region. He previously served as the leader of the Greater Atlanta Risk Assurance practice, which includes Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama, for seven years and currently serves as our Global Relationship Partner on one FTSE 100 and two Fortune 1000 companies. He has delivered internal audit and control services for more than 25 years to globally diversified Fortune 1000 companies.

Clients and peers alike know Bill as someone who is not afraid to ask the tough questions, or conversely to tell them the hard truths. He creates close relationships as an advisor and collaborator with his clients as evidenced by his longevity throughout his client portfolio – many spanning more than 10 years. His ability to bring clarity and structure to complex situations makes him a valuable resource in navigating major acquisitions, transitions from private to public status and recovering from control and security challenges.

Throughout his career, Bill has overseen fully outsourced internal audit functions at established Fortune 1000 companies as well as IPOs, developed enterprise-wide risk programs reporting to the board; led controls due diligence teams associated with acquisitions; harmonized processes and controls post-acquisition; implemented enterprise-wide resource planning system (ERP) business process controls and security; and stabilized operations subsequent to failed system implementations.

Bill is a graduate of Appalachian State University (BS in Business Administration) and a Certified Information Systems Auditor (CISA). He also serves as a Board and Finance Committee member for the YMCA of Metro Atlanta.

Representative expertise:
